

GOP Leader Says Tax Cuts 'Mandatory'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican congressional leader said today taxes must be reduced next year despite additional defense spending which he said apparently will be necessary.

The assertion came from Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), a high-ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.

His assertion that a tax cut is "mandatory" next year came less than 48 hours after Vice President Richard M. Nixon threw cold water on hopes for early tax relief.

Nixon said Monday that with Russia's satellite circling the earth the nation must regard its military strength as a matter of far greater importance than the "understandable desire" for tax relief.

Simpson expressed his views in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in Chicago. A summary of his remarks was released here in advance.

"We can and must cut taxes despite additional spending that will apparently be necessary in the Defense Department," Simpson said.

Any boost in defense spending can be offset by reduced spending on other federal agencies not linked with the defense effort, he said, and this would prevent any overall increase in spending.

The Ways and Means Committee will start tax hearings Jan. 7, he said, and he will "insist" that a major tax reduction be considered at the hearings.

MAIL: Mrs. Helen Puckett of Easton, Wash., former resident of Harrisburg and a Daily Register subscriber, writes a note and sends a clipping about a 500-yard mountain slide which her husband, Lowell, witnessed.

"I thought I mailed this last week, but since I didn't I'll just put a note in and give you some news about one of your subscribers—and, of course, a former citizen of Harrisburg," the letter says.

"Last Saturday in The Register was an article on the bad slide here on Snoqualmie Pass. My husband, Lowell Puckett, was working about 500 yards from it, when 'the side of the mountain came down.' And to get home that night he had to drive four and one-half hours over three passes and through snow.

"One of his fellow workers (and our neighbor) was within three cars of being under the slide, and he saw one of the three dead men."

"We enjoy our home paper very much and look forward to it almost as much as a letter from home."

MORE MAIL: Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Temple of the Goodwill Mission in Marion who are well-known in Harrisburg have sent a clipping from the Marion Daily Republican telling about the Temples appealing for food and clothing for a family of nine stranded on the way from Evansville to California.

"Anything you might say about the mission and the good people who helped these stranded people will be appreciated beyond words by Brother and Sister Temple," the letter said. "We've only been in this mission work two months."

HUMOR DEPT.: "Yes, I'll give you a job. Sweep out the store."
"Sir, but I'm a college graduate."
"Okay, I'll show you how."

Shift Larson To New Post

U. S. Information Chief Replaced By Allen In Move to Placate Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Larson, one of the bright young men of the Republican Party, is being replaced as Chief of the U. S. Information Agency in an apparent move to placate congressional budget cutters.

Larson's shift to a new post was disclosed at a time when the USIA is faced with one of its greatest challenges in countering the tremendous propaganda victory scored by Russia in announcing its Sputnik and other scientific advances.

The White House announced Wednesday that Larson, whose agency's funds were severely cut last year after a bitter congressional budget battle, will be replaced by George V. Allen, one of the State Department's top trouble shooters.

Sometimes called the philosopher of "Modern Republicanism," Larson will become a special assistant to the President. He will be in charge of "special projects."

Mrs. Mary Morris Vance Of Shawneetown Dies

Mrs. Mary Morris Vance, 73, resident of Shawneetown, died in the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg, Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Shaffer, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Edith Fisher, Shawneetown, and her son, Bert Morris, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

The body is in the care of the Cox funeral home and was returned to the family home in Shawneetown to lie in state at 5 p. m. today. Funeral plans have not been completed.

District Governor to Make Official Visit to Harrisburg Rotary Club Oct. 21

The Rotary club of Harrisburg on Oct. 21 will be host to Willis G. Swartz, Governor of District 651 of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 48 Rotary clubs in Southern Illinois. He will address the local club and confer with President C. R. Gardner, Secretary Louie E. Beltz and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Swartz is Dean of the Graduate School, Foreign Student Adviser and Professor of Government at Southern Illinois University and has held numerous offices in the Carbondale Rotary club, as well as in District 651. He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th annual convention in Lucerne, Switzerland, last May. He is one of 249 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,500 Rotary clubs which have a membership of 446,000 business and professional executives in 102 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary clubs are located, President Gardner pointed out in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to the Rotary club of Harrisburg because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community improvements, raising the standards of business and professions, in international affairs relating to United States Propaganda efforts." Allen, a career diplomat and presently U. S. ambassador to Greece, headed the original "Voice of America" radio project that later was expanded into the USIA.

His appointment, which is subject to Senate approval, was hailed by Republicans on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty gave no reason for the switch Wednesday. He refused to say if it was connected with the Soviet space success.

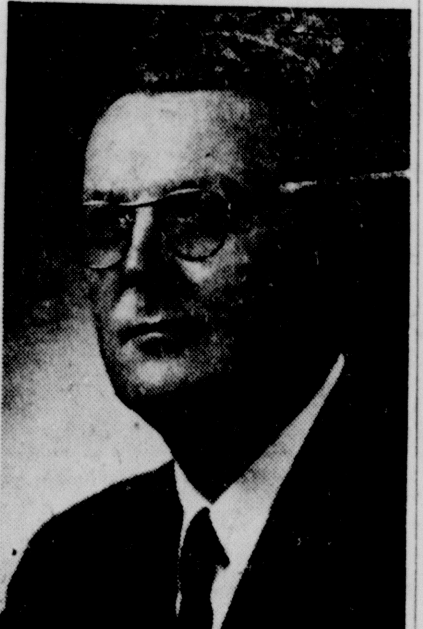

Hagerty did not say when the two men will assume their new jobs. Larson, regarded as one of the GOP's foremost "eggheads," came to the USIA last December. He soon became embroiled in a fight with an economy-minded Congress over his budget for the current year.

Made Hefty Cut

Congress whacked one-third off USIA's 144 million dollar request. The USIA received $96,200,000 to carry out propaganda activities overseas for the current year.

Informed sources said the administration felt Larson was "too controversial" to secure adequate funds for the USIA next year. The 54-year-old Allen is a career diplomat who served under both Republican and Democratic administrations.

He established a notable record while serving in such key spots as ambassador to India, and to Iran during the 1946 cold war crisis over Azerbaijan. He later became assistant secretary of state for Near Eastern, South Asian and African Affairs.

and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world. Each year, the world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength, President Gardner added. During the past fiscal year, 341 new Rotary clubs were organized in 41 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific, and six countries were added to Rotary's roster—Cambodia, French Cameroons, French Equatorial Africa, Gaudeloupe, Liechtenstein and Uganda.

Warn of Retaliation

No Sanctuary for Aggressors if Russia Attacks Turkey, U. S. Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials said today Russia is now on notice that a Russian attack on Turkey will bring the fury of U. S. retaliation against the Soviet Union itself.

There will be no sanctuary for Soviet aggressors as the Chinese Communists had in Korea, they said, if the Russian action is overt. Use of "volunteers," however, probably would not bring any retaliation against Russia, they said.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference Wednesday he did not think a Middle East war likely. But he said nonetheless this country must be on guard lest Russia attack Turkey.

Charges American Prodding

Later Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged that the Turkish general staff, with American "prodding," was planning to attack Communist-backed Syria immediately after Turkey's Oct. 27 elections.

American officials with special knowledge of Mideast affairs said they do not know whether Russia actually is trying to provoke a war between Syria and Turkey. But the officials expressed misgivings about the possible results of the Soviet propaganda campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in San Francisco Wednesday that President Eisenhower and Dulles were giving priority attention to working out a peaceful solution to the problem. He said the United States "great fear" was that a single "miscalculation" could set off a war in the area.

Will Attack the Attacker
Dulles was asked Wednesday, if

in defending Turkey, this country would do so "by attacking the attacker."

"Certainly, if there is an attack on Turkey by the Soviet Union," the secretary replied, "it would not mean a purely defensive operation by the United States with the Soviet Union a privileged sanctuary from which to attack Turkey."

U. S. officials said this does not necessarily mean an all-out American attack on Russia in event of a Russian attack on Turkey. They said there is no way of predicting this country's moves until the specific circumstances are known.

European Tour

Deferred by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that a projected European tour by Vice President Richard Nixon has been deferred until next year.

The White House said Nixon had planned to visit Europe this fall. The trip will be postponed, it said, until after the next session of Congress.

The White House explained that the vice president could not make the trip this fall and still fulfill commitments in Washington.

Plan House Hearings

Defense Dep't Denies Secrecy Gag Ordered on Satellite Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department denied today it has ordered a secrecy gag on U. S. rocket and earth satellite programs.

Army, Navy and Air Force orders issued Oct. 9 told officers and men to steer clear of the controversy stirred by Russia's successful launching of a satellite five days earlier. The orders were released Wednesday by the House subcommittee on government information, which plans public hearings on the matter.

A Defense Department spokesman said today he interpreted the orders to mean military officials who weren't informed on missile and satellite matters should not make public comments.

"The orders were intended to say in effect that 'unless you are an expert in the satellite field, keep quiet,'" he said.

He contended the nation has been given full information on technical aspects of the satellite by scientists, and that President Eisenhower himself fully discussed military implications in a 700-word statement last week.

Words Nearly Same

This explanation did not jibe with dispatches from Barcelona, Spain, on an international scientific meeting there during the past two weeks. The United Press quoted some of the military's top experts on satellites and space research at Barcelona as saying their lips were sealed on orders from Washington.

The Air Force order directed commanders to see that all personnel "refrain from making public comment pertaining to missile or satellite matters at this time" since "any comments are almost certain to be misinterpreted."

The Navy called attention to a speech made the day before by Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of naval research, and ordered officers to confine their statements to his remarks unless they got clearance from the naval chief of information.

The Army told its personnel to "refrain from public statements or discussions bearing on the current missile or satellite situation" because they would be "subject to misinterpretation."

The Defense Department said it did not send out a blanket order to the three military branches on the matter.

Pentagon reporters had reason to complain about secrecy Wednesday when the Air Force finally admitted that four attempts to launch a 1,000 to 4,000-mile-high rocket from a balloon at Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific had failed. Newsmen had been led to believe that because of bad weather no launching attempt had been made.

This secrecy was described as the result of almost traditional hesitancy to admit failure rather than an outgrowth of the Oct. 9 missile-satellite orders.

Harrison Wood to Address Southern Illinois Dinner Club Saturday, Oct. 19

Harrison Wood, born in a little town in Iowa, a traveler of the continents of Europe and Asia, and now living in Evanston, Ill., author, radio commentator and crusader for the free enterprise system and foe of creeping socialism in centralized government, will be the guest of honor of members of the Southern Illinois Dinner club at its meeting Saturday, Oct. 19, at the Harrisburg Country club.

Said to be one of the nation's top ten platform speakers, Wood has addressed many Town Halls and State Teachers Associations and spoken to important groups in Canada, Mexico and Cuba. Walter Winchell said of him, "Harrison Wood adds the paprika touch to world news."

In his address here which he titles "This Changing World," and which is also the name of one of his well received books, Wood is expected to comment on what can be expected from the new defense moves in Europe and the red-hot situation in the Middle East.

A student of global demographic affairs, Wood has often forecast events which later turned out to

Predicts Eventual 15,000 at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—The president of Southern Illinois University predicts that enrollment on the Carbondale campus will eventually reach 15,000.

Speaking before the Southern Illinois Schoolmasters Club, Delyte Morris said a student body of 15,000 "would not be in the best interests of the students or the taxpayers."

SIU's enrollment this fall passed the 8,300-mark, including the Alton and East St. Louis residence centers. This represents an increase of almost 30 per cent over last year.

Couple Spends $11,349 Found In Bank Account

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Bank of Arkansas yelled foul and is demanding a refund from a couple who found $11,349.87 entered in their account through error and promptly spent it.

To make it worse, the bank said in a suit brought against Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alexander, the Alexanders withdrew $3,800 of the money that wasn't theirs and deposited it with a competitor, the First National Bank.

The $11,349.87 was erroneously deposited to the Alexander account Aug. 8. The same day the Alexanders opened their account with a deposit of only $114.80. At the end of August, the Alexanders got a statement showing they had $11,349.87 on deposit.

On Sept. 6, according to the suit, Alexander bought an airplane, paying with a $4,500 check. Three days later, the suit charged, the Alexanders gave a $2,930 check for a new automobile, which was registered in Mrs. Alexander's name.

On Sept. 10, the Alexanders opened an account in the First National Bank with a $3,800 check on the Bank of Arkansas.

The Bank of Arkansas honored the checks for the airplane, automobile and the First National account before it discovered the error.

Receive Warm Greeting From Eisenhower at Airport for 4-Day Visit

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's captivating Queen Elizabeth II swept into Washington today to the cheers of thousands of her American "cousins" and a warm yet solemn greeting from President Eisenhower.

The President, who went to National Airport to welcome the 31-year-old monarch, said her visit strengthens the ties binding the United States and Britain.

"In the warm and strong cooperation between your country and our own lies the best hope for the security and peace of the world," he told the Queen.

The Queen, responding to the President's welcome, brought greetings from "my peoples of every race and creed in the British Commonwealth of nations."

Roll Out Red Carpet
All air traffic stopped and engines were silenced during a 20-minute airport ceremony in which the nation formally rolled out its fanciest red carpet welcome to the Queen and her dashing consort, Prince Philip.

Many thousands lined the road from the airport, along the Potomac and through Washington to the White House, which will be the royal couple's home in a four-day visit here.

The young Queen and Philip flew here from historic Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va., this morning in the President's plane, the Columbine III. Wednesday they had opened their American visit at the historic scenes of the first British settlement in the New World and the cradle of the American Revolution.

Overcast skies and light rain marred some of the story-book pageantry of the occasion here.

Drops of rain began falling just as the Queen and Prince, with Eisenhower seated between them, drove away in the President's transparent-topped limousine.

A parade through flag-decked streets started their ceremony-packed state visit.

Mrs. Eisenhower waited at the north portico of the White House to give them a personal "front porch" welcome.

The Queen, seemingly tireless in the face of unending ceremony, smiled broadly as she strode through the elaborate greeting ceremony with calm assurance.

The Prince, who has captured the hearts of American women, was obviously in very good humor. He flashed his handsome smile and chatted freely with greeters.

The Queen wore a mink jacket when she boarded the plane in Virginia. But when she alighted at Washington she was wearing a fur-trimmed blue cloth coat.

Crowds which began forming three hours earlier were swollen by an out-pouring of government workers just before the parade passed.

The turnout appeared to be considerably below expectations—far

She will be crowned Miss Illinois at a university pep rally Friday night.

Flu-Like Epidemic Spreads in Dixon Retarded School; Five Dead

DIXON, Ill. (AP)—A flu-like epidemic has spread through a crowded school for retarded children, claiming five lives.

Dr. Otto L. Bettag, state welfare director, said that pneumonia was the immediate cause of death but that it apparently had been brought on by the influenza attack.

Officials at the Dixon State School said that the epidemic will probably continue for more than a week. About 25 per cent of the institution's 483 inmates are on the sick list. There are 850 employees, 70 of whom also were stricken.

Bettag said the disease, apparently Asian flu, began Sept. 30, and reached epidemic stage Oct. 11. The first death occurred Oct. 5, and the latest Wednesday.

The school, which is said to be almost 50 per cent overcrowded, cares for adults as well as young people. Three of the persons who died were adults, one of them an 84-year-old woman.

Superintendent Robert Wallace said, "Many of our inmates are particularly susceptible to infectious disease because of certain physical conditions. When flu strikes, higher death rates usually follow in this type institution."

The hospital has clamped a lid on all visiting educational activities.

Woman Receives Year Sentence In County Court

County Judge Trafton Dennis yesterday sentenced Eva Duval to a term of one year at the women's institution at Dwight.

She was charged both with selling mortgaged property and with child abandonment. Dennis gave her a sentence of one year on each charge, the terms to run concurrently.

The judge also fined Jessie W. Luker, a truck driver hauling a big load of piling from Alabama to Chicago, a sum of $200 and physical conditions. When flu strikes, higher death rates usually follow in this type institution."

Little Rock Aftermath

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The American political scene seems bound to be materially affected in 1958 and 1960 by the turbulent events at Little Rock this fall.

These events will alter a picture already in continuous flux as a result of a swelling, changing economy, a growing, shifting population and such special factors as 1957's discrediting disclosures in the field of organized labor.

Most observers feel that the forceful line taken by President Eisenhower in the Little Rock controversy will severely handicap any effort of the Republicans to build a real party in the South in the years just ahead.

Mr. Eisenhower's own deep election inroads in the South, especially in 1956, had encouraged some to feel that now was the time to toll for a genuine two-party system there. That prospect probably has vanished now.

To the extent that Negroes participate more heavily in future elections, some GOP gain might follow.

But the belief is that this will be more than offset by major defections from among those who voted for the President last year.

On the other hand, the political experts think Republicans in northern and western states will pick up additional Negro support which could be crucial in certain populous areas where Negroes appear to hold the balance of voting power.

California, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York fall in this category.

Obviously, northern Democrats in competing for these northern and western votes will likely feel compelled to press for strong civil rights programs. The balance in some areas may already have shifted against them because of the population flight to the conservative suburbs. They will not be inclined to take the risk of further big losses.

To urge strong civil rights projects, however, will be to put these Democrats at distinct odds with their conservative Southern colleagues. Party unity, shrewdly promoted this year by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas in the civil rights struggle in Congress, may be sorely strained.

Signs already exist that a new civil rights battle may develop in Congress in 1958. Beyond question, the effort to find common North-South ground in a 1960 Democratic platform will be made far more difficult by the sharpened differences growing out of Little Rock.

Which party will gain or lose the most in consequence of this controversy no sensible man would try now to forecast.

It is clear only that the coalitions of voters in the North and South which produced the presidential outcome of 1956 will not exist in 1958 and 1960. Big change is in the air.

"Keep Your Eye on the Leaves--- Now Follow Through..."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Khrushchev's 1957 Tactics Resemble Those Of Hitler In 1937; Eisenhower Doctrine For Near East Is Virtually Torn Up. The Joke Was On J. Edgar Hoover.

WASHINGTON. — While the nation's capital is paying homage to the beautiful queen of our leading western ally, the western world is haunted by certain ominous similarities between Khrushchev's tactics in 1957 and Hitler's tactics in 1937. It was in 1937-38 that Hitler started taking over Austria and large chunks of Czechoslovakia purely by psychological warfare.

He did it by exhibiting the might of the Nazi army, by showing foreign diplomats motion pictures of Germany's military might, and by subversion inside Austria and Czechoslovakia. He didn't have to fire a single shot.

Today, 20 years later, awe of the Russian ICBM, amazement over the Sputnik, plus savage warnings from the Kremlin are doing the same thing for Khrushchev.

In the past week, the Arab world, much of previously pro-West, has started swinging into the Soviet orbit. Here are the swings:

Swing No. 1—President Chamoun of Lebanon, hitherto a staunch friend of the United States and no friend of Syria, now is backing Syria and wants to renounce the Eisenhower Doctrine. This reversal came about one week after Khrushchev launched his Sputnik and 48 hours after Khrushchev, growing viciously at Turkey, warned that Turkey would not stay alive more than 24 hours in case of war.

Lebanon leaders, listening to Khrushchev, knew that if the Red Army once obliterated Turkey it would sweep on down into the Arab world. So they jumped to get on the right side of the fence.

Swing No. 2—Simultaneous with Lebanon's rightabout-face, King Saud made a statement which just about tore up the Eisenhower Doctrine. Saud had been wine and dined by Eisenhower, receives his total income from American oil companies, has no reason to love Russia. Yet he lined up with Syria, a country which is becoming almost wholly dependent on the Kremlin.

Swing No. 3—Col. Nasser has recently been making noises about a friendlier Egyptian policy toward the United States. But one week after the launching of the Sputnik and 70 hours after Khrushchev unleashed his savage verbal blast against Turkey, Nasser landed troops in Syria to support Syria against Turkey.

All this fits into a pattern — a pattern all too similar to that which Hitler used to terrorize central Europe shortly before the start of World War II.

IRRESPONSIBLE KHRUSHCHEV Last month, Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, whose job it is to know what's going on inside Russia, stated publicly that there was ferment inside Russia and that Khrushchev seemed to be in trouble. He expected another political purge.

Other advisers picked up in Europe and the Near East bear this out. Khrushchev not only has the old Kremlin leaders against him, but the bureaucrats. Furthermore, his much-ballyhooed farm program isn't clicking. Reports on crop failures are staggering.

A dictator of Khrushchev's caliber, especially one who drinks 21 martinis before dinner, is capable of doing desperate, dangerous things—if he becomes overconfident, or if he is pushed to the wall.

Russian scientific advances obviously have made Khrushchev cocky. The political situation at home might make him desperate. I don't like to be a pessimist, but where the future of the free world is concerned, it's much better to be ready than late.

SIPPING IN A CELLAR

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover was relaxing with Vice President Nixon and Gen. Nathan Twining, the Joint Chiefs' chairman, the other day in the basement of Tom Webb, Washington representative of Texas oil millionaire Clint Murchison.

Suddenly the voice of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus blared over the radio and launched into a scathing attack on Hoover.

The G-Man squirmed in his chair, then flushed as Faubus' voice assailed him as a "Gestapo chief."

Nixon and Twining were chuckling at Hoover's discomfort when the radio voice lit into Nixon, who had befriended the Negroes during the civil rights debate.

Twining was still grinning when he, too, came under attack. He was singled out as the nation's top military man, technically in command of federal troops in Little Rock.

Finally, the voice lashed out again at Hoover.

"I'll bet," the radio boomed, "that Hoover is getting drunk in some cellar right now."

The three dignitaries, who had been sipping cocktails in Webb's basement, looked startled. Then they caught on to the practical joke. The "broadcast" had been faked at Webb's instigation by Gordon McClendon, Texas radio executive, who did a perfect imitation of Governor Faubus.

ROYAL GO-ROUND

The State Department has issued a "protocol" warning against tiny renditions of the Star-Spangled Banner and the Queen's anthem (God Save The King) by outdoor bands. . . . The White House had "no comment" on a London newspaper query about how the Eisenhower administration would address their royal guests during their four-day visit. Apparently Ike and Mamie hadn't made up their minds. . . . The State Department hopes there won't be any corny, unprotocolish ad libbing by members of Congress as in 1939, when former Congressman Nat Patton of Texas loudly greeted the King and Queen of England (Elizabeth's parents) as "cousins." . . . Another mirthful memory of the 1939 reception was the show put on by the late Rep. Sol Bloom of New York, House Foreign Affairs chairman, who greeted the royal visitors in top hat and morning clothes while an assistant trailed behind Bloom, carrying the latter's cane. . . . Queen Elizabeth will receive an unusual salute at the Maryland-North Carolina football game. During the half-time ceremonies members of the two university bands will form a crown on the gridiron, with the legend "E. R. 2" spelled out under it, while playing the Queen's anthem. In addition, Elizabeth will receive a football autographed by the players of both teams and will take home a special gift for young Prince Charles—a terrapin-shaped music box which plays "Maryland, My Maryland."

More than 50 types of steel alloys are used to make the modern automobile.

Beck to Remain In Union Post

WASHINGTON — Dave Beck announced today that because of court proceedings here he will not resign as Teamsters Union president in favor of President-elect James R. Hoffa.

Beck, whose term runs to Dec. 1, had planned to resign immediately from the $50,000-a-year job to let Hoffa take over.

The 44-year-old Hoffa was elected to succeed Beck at the Teamsters' recent convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts Monday granted a 10-day injunction forbidding Hoffa to take office at once. The order stemmed from charges the election was rigged.

Meanwhile, Hoffa has pleaded innocent to perjury charges in New York where a judge is con-

It takes a GIANT to reach across a river

A giant bridge stands as a familiar landmark on the local scene, conveying its traffic to a specific destination. And just as familiar is the daily newspaper, a giant medium continually conveying news and advertising into almost every home in the nation.

More than 57,000,000 newspapers are bought daily, reaching almost every prospective customer in the land. And just as a bridge connects people on opposite shores, so does the daily newspaper link people on opposite sides of business—the buyers and the sellers of goods.

For wholesalers, distributors, retailers and regional manufacturers the newspaper is an indispensable courier which calls on practically every family in the local market.

If you want the fastest way to get your story across, you should be using the daily newspaper. It's the surest bridge between you and the people you want to sell.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Triumph In Advance

Mike Todd's Party at Madison Square Garden Tonight an Extravagant Affair

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (U.P.) — Mike Todd, a producer who once made a movie and can't seem to forget it, has set up temporary residence for tonight in Madison Square Garden to celebrate the movie's first birthday.

If you are interested in seeing Mike Todd's party, Mike Todd, six mummies bands and a 100-piece orchestra, Mike Todd's wife, Sir Cedric Hardwicke riding an elephant some cowboys and bagpipers, a 20-foot "Oscar" made of chrysanthemums, film clips from Mike Todd's movie, a short film telling how Mike Todd made his movie, 18,000 people eating 10,000 pints of Mike Todd's ice cream and Mike Todd's birthday cake ("It's 14 feet high and 30 feet at the bottom and Gad! how will Liz Taylor ever be able to cut it?") cries the press agent in press agent-type agony, you can catch it on CBS-TV.

NBC-TV will present "Green Pastures," which is only a spectacular.

CBS-TV has dubbed its extravaganza, "Around the World in 90 Minutes," a split genuflection to the title of Todd's movie and the title of the show displaced tonight, "Playhouse 90."

CBS Sends First Team

The network is throwing its first team into the brawl—Walter Cronkite, Bill Leonard and Jim McKay, aided by 11 cameras and a technical crew of 48, will call the play-by-play from the Garden. Quentin Reynolds will handle the wrap-up from a studio.

Todd is giving away so many gifts to his guests (he got them off) that he'll have to store many of them in a parking lot near the Garden. CBS-TV will keep a camera in the parking lot all evening, which certainly should mark some sort of first for television.

Tons Of Gifts

Among the gifts the camera will scan: 40 Siamese cats from the King of Thailand, three foreign cars, three domestic cars, an airplane (complete with flying lessons), 30 ivory backscratchers, a rickshaw, a couple of motor scooters and 50 elephant bells.

Inside the Garden, Todd will trot out a pageant of floats, clowns, horses and stuff like that there. Armfuls of celebrities will be on hand who won't entertain but may grunt prettily into the camera. In fact, a current gag has it that Todd may introduce Ed Sullivan from his audience.

And Ordinary People

The celebrity guests along with 1000 ordinary slob (picked by lot by movie exhibitors in some 60 cities) will be forced to 1000 pizzas, 300 pounds of salami, 15,000 hot dogs, several hogheads of coffee, 500 gallons of cider and several thousand gallons of champagne. Presumably, guests will be required to furnish their own bicarbonate of soda.

"We're getting everything free—the food, the drink, the gifts. Everybody wants to get into the act," reports an ecstatic Todd associate. "CBS is even paying us for the right to televise the event."

For Todd, therefore, the evening stacks up as a triumph in advance. He'll get 90 minutes to plug his movie before a nationwide TV audience. And he'll get paid for it. He'll also get a chance to plug his upcoming movie, "Don Quixote."

All this and Elizabeth Taylor, too.

Brushy

Handkerchief Shower Honors Mrs. Carl Ray of Brushy

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Carl Ray called at her home Friday, to give her a handkerchief shower. She will leave soon to join her husband in Oak Forest, where he will teach this winter.

Those present at the shower were: Mrs. Earl Callard, Mrs. Kenneth Abney, Mrs. Nell Bond, Mrs. Hubert Spencer, Mrs. Hobart Somers, Mrs. Ethel Abney, Mrs. James Bond, Mrs. Oran Call, Mrs. Aline Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Waldo Abney, Mrs. Cleo Bond, Mrs. Harry Libby, Mrs. Wilburn Bond and Mrs. Luther Beers. Refreshments were served and game prizes were awarded to Mamie Libby, Nell Ray, Irma Spencer and Beulah Bond.

"Golden Echoes," a gospel chorus from Centralia, will sing at Mt. Moriah church, Sunday at 7 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The families of Otto Henn and John C. Small were guests at a dinner in the home of Charles Lockwood, Saturday, to celebrate Mrs. Lockwood's birthday.

The "Good Neighbor" club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Golliver. Mrs. Otto Henn will install the new officers at this meeting. Mrs. Clifford Haford is the retiring president.

Rev. Volla Sittig, pastor of Union Chapel, closed a two weeks' revival meeting at the Galatia Presbyterian church, Saturday evening. There was a fellowship dinner at noon on Sunday at the church.

Mrs. Steven Takacs Entertains Home Bureau Unit

Mrs. Steven Takacs was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Galatia Home Bureau unit. The minor lesson, "Home Medicine Chest," was presented by Mary Margaret Small who emphasized the need to discard old medicines and store poisons safely by separating them from internal medicines. Edith Small illustrated the major lesson, "Flower Arrangements," with bouquets of fresh garden flowers as well as winter bouquet materials. Mabel Cardwell arranged some of the flowers from her garden.

Mrs. Max Cochran, whose 25th wedding anniversary was on the meeting day, was presented with a silver sandwich tray, by the members of the unit. This was her second surprise of the day, since she had come to the meeting from a surprise dinner.

The November meeting will be held with three other units, in a district meeting, and the members drew the names of their new Sunshine friends at this meeting. The December meeting was planned for Dec. 7, at 7 p. m. in the John C. Small home. Husbands will be invited to share this potluck dinner and Christmas party. Refreshments were served to the 14 members present by the hostess, assisted by Elaine Gardner. The refreshments were Sunshine cake and coffee.

John Murphy Speaks To Brushy PTA Meeting

The Brushy grade school PTA opened its meeting Thursday evening with singing. Mrs. Carney played the piano and Mrs. Jones led the singing. Mabel Hayes led the evening prayer. Lois Reynolds led the Salute to the Flag and sang a solo. Mary Margaret Small read, "A Little Girl's Essay on Husbands" and Hazel McIlrath, program chairman, introduced John Murphy, assistant county superintendent of schools, whose subject was, "Promotion."

Mr. Boyd praised the new fire alarm which helped to clear the school building in 38 seconds in a fire drill.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

"Layman's Day," an annual observance of the Methodists, will be Sunday in the Mt. Moriah-Lone Oak charge. Noble Woodard will speak at Mt. Moriah and John C. Small will speak at Lone Oak.

Contest to Select Design for SIU Nurses Uniform

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The distinctive uniform to be worn by Southern Illinois University's student nurses beginning next year will be selected from designs submitted in a contest now under way, according to Miss Stephanie Conwell, associate professor of nursing.

A year's free tuition in the Department of Nursing will be offered to the winning designer, Miss Conwell said. If that person is unable to use the prize, he or she may choose the recipient. Funds for the award have been donated privately.

Open to anyone in the nation except SIU employees, the contest places no limit on the number of drawings each participant may submit. However, all designs must be original and entered under the name of the designer.

Purpose of the contest, Miss Conwell said, is to obtain for students in SIU's new bachelor's degree nursing program an attractive uniform suitable both for street and hospital wear in all seasons.

Drawings, each showing a front and back view of the uniform as well as designs for apron and bib must not be identical to nurses' uniforms already in use at other

Xi Beta Omega Chapter Holds Beta Sigma Phi Rush Party

The Xi Beta Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a rush party for Beta Kappa chapter and its rushees at the farm home of Mrs. Mary Humm, near Equality, Tuesday evening. This was a "Kid party" for which the guests dressed as children, real and story-book. There were prizes for the prettiest, funniest, most original and the best "reason for dressing this way," the last won by Virginia Walker who said that her husband had worn the same little girl dress and blonde wig at a Halloween party a year ago, and she thought she would be prettier in it.

The guests were given paper bag favors filled with bubble gum, candy, and noisemakers.

Mrs. Humm, Xi Beta Omega chapter president, was hostess and the committee in charge of entertainment, food and transportation was headed by Mrs. Ann McGehee, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Norma Keene, Mrs. Kitty Partain and Mrs. Marion Utter.

Appropriate refreshments for the "kids" were, chili, hot-dogs, potato chips, nickles, celery, carrot sticks, a most attractive variety of home made cupcakes and coffee. There were "shutter bugs" flashing "ash-burns" throughout the evening as "interesting" situations arose. Stunts and singing added to the happy confusion. The obvious hesitancy on the part of all of the guests to break up the party was the barometer of its success.

Rushees were: Edie Shingler, "Chicken-Pox Baby"; Leota Humm, "Pinafore Girl"; Wanda Taylor, "Little Bo Peep"; Marion Reynolds, "Margaret O'Brien"; Bernice McGuire, "Teen-Ager"; Helen Stankunas, "School Girl"; Nancy Fulkerson, "Little Girl"; Margaret Smith, "Roller Rink Skater"; Jane Tompeo, "Middy-Girl"; and Donna Williams and Barbara Bing "Little Girls."

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anglin, 705 West Raymond street Harrisburg, are parents of a girl, born at the Harrisburg hospital Wednesday. The baby has been named Martha Jane and weighed seven pounds, seven ounces at birth.

institutions, Miss Conwell warned. January 15 is the deadline for entries, which are to be mailed to the Department of Nursing, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. The decision of the judges will be final.

The person selected to receive the tuition prize must be an Illinois resident who will enter the SIU nursing program within a year, Miss Conwell said.

Social and Personal Items

Michael Hillezas Chapter D. A. R. Meets With Mrs. George Robertson

The Michael Hillezas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its October meeting, Monday, at the home of Mrs. George Robertson.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Gray, regent. Mrs. Royce Cline led the members in their Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The president general's message was read by Mrs. Sam Cape and the minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. Mrs. Frank Gray discussed the district conference held Oct. 1 at Metropolis, which was attended by the following members of the chapter: Mrs. Gary, Mrs. Victor Pumm, Mrs. "Am Cape, Mrs. Herman Boatright, and Mrs. C. A. Bacon. At the conclusion of the business meeting music was furnished by chapter members of Virginia ancestry.

Speaker for the evening was chapter member Mrs. John W. Towle, who gave an interesting review of her recent visit to the colonial homes of Virginia including Charlottesville, Jamestown, and Williamsburg. Her discussion of restored historic homes was accompanied by the showing of color slides. Views taken of the interiors of homes such as the George Wythe House, an example of Georgian Colonial architecture, and Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, an example of pure patrician beauty reflecting the outstanding talent of Thomas Jefferson, were very impressive.

The landscaping of the gardens, the age old boxwoods, and the colorful flowers surrounding these homes are truly a work of art. One of the best examples is Gunston Hall, the home of George Mason in Fairfax county. The chapter members realize that appreciation for the work done in preserving these beautiful homes for posterity cannot be fully understood until they have been visited. They are truly to be cherished not only as monuments of the past but reminders of what we should do about the future, Mrs. Towle stated. The "preservation of their ideals as well as their homes," will be as great a tribute as the former owners could ever desire of us, she said.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Kitty Partain. The hostesses were Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. Hal Burnett, Miss Patricia Sayers, and Mrs. Everett Hess.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Della Palmer were: Mr. and Mrs. Orval Palmer and son Lyndall, Mrs. Nina Modglin, Donald, Wanda, Brenda and Jimmy, Mrs. Donna Palmer, Joyce, John, Dean and Stanley, Mrs. Nadine Patterson, and Misses Sandra Carolyn and Phillis Morse of Raleigh.

Calendar Of Meetings

A bake sale will be held Saturday at the Land Street Church of God by the Willing Workers class, by which class the church building fund has been steadily supported. Public patronage is invited.

Hospital Notes

Harrisburg Hospital Admitted: Clifton Harris, 1316 Holland street, Harrisburg. Henry Hicks, Galatia. Mrs. Connie Rogers, North Main street, Harrisburg. Mrs. Ray Brogan, 422 South McKinley, Harrisburg.

Noble Prophetess and Associate Watchman of Shepherds Night Observed

Noble Prophetess and Associate Watchmen of Shepherds Night was observed at a special meeting in the Masonic temple, Harrisburg, Monday, honoring Sojourner Blanche Ozment and Don Endicott, of the Egyptian Shrine, who served as officers for the evening. The fall theme was carried out in the room decorations and the programs. The dining room was decorated with fall flowers, leaves, and pumpkins, and refreshments were served there at the close of the meeting.

The following guest officers served in the stations indicated: Nan Bullock, J. P. Mt. Vernon; Mickey Overby, A. W. O. S., Marion; Violet Fenzil, W. C., Carbondale; Emogene Royce, W. S., Herrin; Helen Williams, W. G., Eldorado; Doreth Tinsley, W. H., Paducah; Nellie Ragland, W. S., Carbondale; Lotus Rettinghouse, W. T., Centralia; Hester Hargrave, Queen, McLeansboro; Lessie Baldwin, King, Christopher; Wayne Tinsley, 1st W. Man, Paducah; Edward Kratzner, 2nd W. Man, Centralia; W. R. Benton, 3rd W. Man, Carbondale; Jean Banko, W. Guardian; Christopher; Lester Hargraves, W. Guard, McLeansboro; Irene Shaw, 1st H. Maid, Harrisburg; Elizabeth Eichelman, 2nd H. Maid, Christopher; Helen Alka, 3rd H. Maid, Mt. Carmel; Mabel Hartsock, B. Bearer, Pinckneyville; Lucy Page, Escort, Mt. Vernon; Mildred Rosenberger, Escort, Christopher; Daisy Benton, C. Flag Bearer, Carbondale; Orabelle Chastain, Escort, Eldorado; Dorothy Bays, Escort, Marion; Carl Varner, Flag Bearer, Pinckneyville; George Border, Escort, Mt. Vernon; Elmer Royce, Escort, Herrin; Clementine Campbell, soloist, Pinckneyville.

Sojourner Vivian M. Parrish, Past Supreme Worth High Priestess, was guest of honor for the evening. The dignity of the ceremony impressed the attending members with the feeling that this was an outstanding meeting of the Shrine year. The friendly atmosphere which prevailed in the dining room was noted, also.

David Rees, Airman 2-c, arrived last week end from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex., en route to Chanute Field, Ill., for special training. He visited his wife and son, Steven Bruce, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Rees. With him were two friends also transferred temporarily to Chanute: T. Sgt. Leland Beachboard, of Oklahoma City, and A. 2-c Jon Josephson, Denver, Colo.

Appointments to Welfare Groups

Appointments for county welfare services committees in 17 downstate counties were announced today by Peter W. Cahill, acting executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

Appointments included: Saline county: Harry Bramlet, Eldorado, appointed to replace Mrs. Monette Cluck, whose term expired; Virgil Ferrell, Harrisburg, appointed to complete unexpired term of Raymond Field, now a member of the advisory board; and J. H. Jackson, Galatia, Howard Patterson, Galatia Route 3, and Mrs. Clyde Pittman, Harrisburg, all reappointed. Johnson county: Ernest Cates, Vienna, appointed to replace Dr. Royce S. Hundley, who resigned; Mrs. Pansy O'Keefe, Vienna, appointed to replace R. O. Hodges, whose term expired; and Mrs. Esta Ragsdale, Cypress, and Mrs. Ada Seel, Ozark, reappointed.

Hardin county: Amos Hill, Cave-in-Rock; Pervious Jennings, Rosiclare; and the Rev. Raymond Rose, Elizabethtown, all reappointed.

Hamlet's Tombs

Historians generally believe that Hamlet was buried at Ammelheide, in Jutland. There are, however, 10 gravestones in Denmark to indicate his alleged last resting place.

5 Mine Deaths In September

SPRINGFIELD — The State Mines and Minerals Department reported today there were five fatal accidents in Illinois coal mines during September.

Coal production last month, meanwhile, increased to 3,918,595 tons—387,086 tons more than in August and 225,839 tons more than in September last year.

Two of the September deaths occurred in a rock fall in a Franklin County mine. Two others occurred in a Marion County mine when a clod fell on miners. A fall of face coal in a Madison County mine was responsible for the fifth death.

The September toll brought to 20 the number of miners killed in the first nine months of this year.

The September coal production was reported by 127 mines in 32 counties, which employed a total of 11,387 men.

Williamson County was the top producer with 598,499 tons.

Twelve states now are using green, rather than white, signs to provide directional information to motorists.

THE SUNDAY AUTO TOUR held Oct. 13 left Cobden and visited areas in Union county with 46 cars and an estimated 210 persons taking part. Spots visited included the top part of Draper's Bluff (top photo) which is east of Lick Creek in Union county. The bluff is said to be the shore of the Gulf of Mexico; middle photo shows Rock Channel northeast of Cobden which is en route to the two-story shelter bluff shown below. The two-story shelter bluff can be reached only on hands and knees and was a highlight of the tour. The above photos were made by John Foster, who will be co-leader of the tour to leave Harrisburg Sunday, Oct. 20, at 10 a. m.

Third Auto Tour
Sunday, Oct. 20
Will Leave
Intersection of Routes 45 and 34

The third Sunday Auto Autumn color tour along "The Skyline Drive" Trig Memorial Ozark trail will be Sunday, Oct. 20. It will start at the intersection of Routes 45 and 34, southeast edge of Harrisburg at 10 a. m.

Louis Aaron and John Foster will lead the outing and scenic points to be visited will include Bell Smith Springs, Murder Falls, Stone Fort Bluff, Hayes Canyon, Lusk Creek Canyon and Williams Hill.

All interested persons are invited to join the tour and are urged to wear comfortable hiking clothing and walking shoes and to bring lunch and drink. Anyone wishing to join the tour late should meet the caravan one-half mile north of Edenville at Hayes Canyon. The caravan is scheduled to arrive there at 12:30 p. m.

After lunch visits will be made to Ship's Prow rock and Natural Bridge then back to the steps and out.

WCTU County Convention at Eldorado Friday

The county convention of the W.C.T.U. will be held in the Eldorado First Methodist church, Friday. It will be an all-day meeting and a potluck dinner will be served at the noon hour. Jane Casaway of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, Harrisburg, will present the morning devotion. Annual elections will be held and there will be a prayer service at noon.

There will be a memorial service in the afternoon with Rev. Ern ext Ammon, Harrisburg, the guest speaker.

To Attend Special Preview of '58 Dodges

B. W. Rude, Ernest Duncan, Tommie Johns, John Mathias and Everett "Pat" Patton, representatives of B. W. Rude Motor Co., local Dodge dealership, will attend a special preview showing of the 1958 line of Dodge passenger cars and trucks in Evansville, Ind., Tuesday.

Also attending the meeting, one of 17 similar showings across the country, will be officials of the Detroit auto firm, who will introduce the new models to local dealers and outline selling plans for the coming year.

Public announcement of the 1958 Dodge is scheduled Nov. 6.

IN THE SERVICE

Two soldiers from Harrisburg, Pts. Donald E. Hull and Charles E. Arbie, recently were graduated from the nine-week equipment maintenance course at the Engineer school, Fort Belvoir, Va. Hull, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iley P. Hull, RFD 1, entered the Army last April and was last stationed at Fort Carson, Colo. His wife, Nadine, lives in Alexandria, Va. Arbie, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arbie, 1306 South Granger, entered the Army last May and completed basic training at Fort Carson.

Pte. John L. Owen Jr., whose parents live at 807 North Webster street, participated in recent organization day ceremonies of the 25th Infantry Division in Hawaii. The 25th, nicknamed the "Tropic Lightning" division, was organized in 1941. A demolition specialist in Company C of the division's 65th Engineer Battalion, Owen entered the Army in December 1955 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He arrived in Hawaii in July 1956.

Arrests Fail to Halt Highway Fatalities In Southern Illinois

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A record number of arrests by state police in southern Illinois during September failed to halt the climb of highway fatalities.

The police made 1,294 arrests in the 17 counties of Dist. 13. Ten persons were killed and 134 injured. Eight fatalities were reported in August. There were seven in September, 1956.

Eighty-one persons have died thus far this year on highways in the district. This total compares with an average of 76 for the same period during the last seven years.

Johnson County topped the death list in September with four fatalities and Williamson County had two.

Marlon Brando's Bride Assures She Is Indian

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Anna Kashfi, who married Marlon Brando last Friday in nearby Eagle Rock, assured the world today that, by golly, she was an Indian from Calcutta after all.

Her statement was designed to put an end to speculation that she was a Wales lass in disguise. Shortly after announcement of the wedding, Miss Kashfi's stepfather, William Patrick O'Callaghan, a factory worker in Cardiff, Wales, insisted that his daughter was "Joanna O'Callaghan," and did not "have a drop of Indian blood" in her veins.

Miss Kashfi and Brando returned from a four-day honeymoon Wednesday and issued the statement—one which the actress said would be her last attempt to clear up the much-discussed question of her parentage.

"I was born in Calcutta, India, to my Indian parents, Devi Kashfi, a civil engineer and architect, and Selma Ghose, on Sept. 30, 1934," she said in the statement.

"When I was 16 my mother remarried William Patrick O'Callaghan. I acquired their name and used it as my legal name on my first trip to England in 1952. I returned to India briefly thereafter and then went back to London. Two years ago I came to this country as a non-immigrant visitor on petition by Loe's Incorporated."

Only Six Negro Students Report at Little Rock High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Only six of the nine Negroes who integrated Central High School Sept. 25 under the protection of paratroopers reported for classes today and their guard was further reduced.

Elizabeth Eckford, 14, was absent for the first time today. It was not determined immediately whether she has flu, like the other two absent Negro students.

The other two are Melba Pattillo, 15, who has not gone to school since last Thursday, and Terrence Roberts, 16, who has not been in school since last Friday.

Terrence has admitted that white students made him so miserable by throwing erasers and saying "things" that he thought about quitting last week. He said he has since changed his mind.

WSIL to Receive Citation Friday

A citation for public service is to be presented to station WSIL-TV, Harrisburg, Friday by five-year-old John Morris of McLeansboro, on the 5th anniversary of the inspirational TV series "This Is The Life." Only as old as the "world's most televised program," Master Morris will give station WSIL-TV a symbolic 5th birthday cake with a banner inscribed: "To WSIL-TV for Spiritual-Life Public Service on the 5th anniversary of 'This Is The Life'."

Representing the religious series produced by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, Rev. B. C. Betow of the Trinity Lutheran church, McLeansboro, states that the award is made as the producers' way of observing the program's 5th anniversary on television.

Pastor Betow points out that the series is the "pioneer" in use of modern-day dramatic episodes to demonstrate, rather than preach, the values of the Christian message for happier, fuller living in today's world. Its 5-year history includes many national awards for excellence in the field of religious TV. It is seen over WSIL each Wednesday at 10:30 p. m.

Presenting the program's 5th birthday cake citation on the station's Studio Show at 5 p. m. Oct. 18 will be 5-year-old John Morris who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Morris of McLeansboro.

Arrested by FBI For Bank Robbery

CHICAGO — A former Chicago newspaperman was arrested by FBI agents and held for arraignment today on a charge of robbing a small bank of almost $7,000.

Christopher L. Magee, 40, was arrested Wednesday night shortly after he left a race track, where he told FBI agents he had "a good day."

Magee was charged with the robbery June 13, 1955, of the Cicero Savings and Loan Assn. in which he obtained $2,488, and for a $4,300 robbery of the same bank on Aug. 13, 1956.

FBI agent Richard Auerbach said the agency was on Magee's trail "for some time" before closing in on him Wednesday night as he was driving his car along Chicago's Lake Shore Drive.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — After a truck explosion hurled flaming gasoline, police found 20 pairs of shoes left by fleeing pedestrians.

Wrong Number Causes Baby's Death

CHICAGO — A wrong number caused a baby's death.

Mrs. Judith Schlaeger was bathing her 2-month-old son in the kitchen sink when the telephone rang.

She put the baby on the sink drain board and went to answer the call. It was a wrong number.

She returned to find the baby's head and shoulders beneath the water.

Firemen were summoned and administered oxygen for 20 minutes, but the baby was dead.

The hysterical mother wept repeated two words, again and again:

"Wrong number . . . Wrong number."

Soviet Claims Missile Can Hit Target 'Exactly'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet Embassy official here claims that Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile is capable of hitting target "exactly."

Alexander T. Oustinov, First Secretary at the Embassy, also said the Russian space satellite is not sending coded messages as it circles the earth.

It was reported meanwhile that the Soviets probably will launch a second satellite within the next three weeks. It is expected to be even larger than the present 184-pound Sputnik, according to informed foreign diplomatic officials.

Oustinov cited Russia's satellite success as one of several examples of Soviet scientific advances at nearby College Park, Md.

He listed one of these as the Soviet ICBM which he said "has a very long range, exactly hitting on target."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said yesterday Russia has been working on ballistic missiles for some time and "probably have some advance over us" in that field of "potential" military activity.

The Soviet diplomat said the present Red moon is equipped with only two radio transmitters. He said Soviet scientists can gather information from the signals transmitted only by their character, such as the interval between signals and their strength.

less than crowds which have turned out for some presidential inaugurations.

There was a scattering of polite applause, but no sustained cheering from the crowd.

As the motorcade moved thru the city to the White House, the President pointed out the city's historic sights to the visitors. He gestured, for example to the Washington Monument, emblem of this nation's gratitude to the man who led the American Revolution against the Queen's forefather, King George III.

A vendor at 14th Street was doing a brisk business in sales of the Union Jack. His customers waved them as the Queen drove by.

Secret Service agents milled in the crowd.

They drove up to the north portico of the White House at 12:40 p. m.

Mrs. Eisenhower, wearing a green dress and black shoes, came forward and greeted her houseguests with handshakes.

"How do you do? Glad to see you, and glad to welcome you here," Mrs. Eisenhower said. They posed for pictures, then entered the mansion.

Change Judge For Murder Trial Of Evansville Man

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Clifford Watson, 51, Evansville, who faces a murder trial in the shooting to death of his mother and dismemberment of her body, was granted a change of judge Wednesday.

Judge Ollie C. Reeves granted the change in Vanderburgh Circuit Court and appointed a panel of prospective judges.

Watson was arrested in Cincinnati several months ago, about two years after Mrs. Pearl Hartlage vanished mysteriously from her Evansville home.

Watson admitted, police said, killing Mrs. Hartlage during a violent argument, chopping up her body and eventually burying the parts beneath a farmhouse near Crawfordsville, Ind., where Watson's family moved temporarily from Evansville before going to Cincinnati.

Nickell Enters Hospital for Thorough Exam

SPRINGFIELD — Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction, entered St. John's Hospital Wednesday for a thorough physical examination.

Earlier Nickell said the report on his medical checkup will be "the big determining factor" in whether he seeks a fifth term.

The Republican state official is now 66; he would be 67 when the April primary is held next spring. He is also recovering from a serious illness for which he was hospitalized several weeks earlier this year.

Nickell has been superintendent of public instruction since 1942.

Summon UN Group to Study Syria's Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — A meeting of the United Nations General Assembly Steering Committee was called for Friday morning to decide whether to list Syria's war charges against Turkey for full Asser "ly debate.

Sir Leslie Munroe of New Zealand, president of the Assembly and chairman of the committee, today summoned the 17 nation group to meet at 10 a. m. Friday for speedy action on the Syrian demand for a U. N. investigation of Turkish troop concentrations Syria charges threatens "imminent attack."

The United States, charged directly by Russia with "prodding" Turkey to attack Syria and touch off a new war, has expressed full support for such an investigation.

The United States, informed sources said, would like an investigation of troop build-ups in Syria and the Soviet Union, as well as the one requested by the Syrians in Turkey.

Western diplomats expressed concern that Russia might blunder into World War III by stepping up its propaganda blasts concerning the Syrian situation.

Marriage Ends For Faye Emerson

NEW YORK — Actress Faye Emerson and bandleader Skitch Henderson have written finis to their seven-year marriage.

A spokesman for the couple said they "reluctantly came to the conclusion to separate" yesterday after trying for a year to patch up their differences. He said they arrived at an amicable property settlement.

Miss Emerson and Henderson were married Dec. 12, 1950, in Cuernavaca, Mexico, where the actress received a divorce 11 months earlier from Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president. Her first marriage, to William Crawford, a San Diego auto salesman, also ended in divorce.

Dr. Webb to Present Demonstration at Dental Meeting in Florida

Dr. L. I. Webb, of Harrisburg, will present a clinical demonstration on the scientific program at the 98th annual session of the American Dental Association to be held Nov. 4-7 in Miami and Miami Beach.

An attendance of 12,000 is expected at the four-day meeting. In addition to the clinical demonstrations, there will be an extensive program of scientific reports and scientific and technical exhibits on the newest developments in dentistry.

Missina Girl Returns Home

DES MOINES — A pretty 16-year-old girl who disappeared from an exclusive girls' school after a lovers' spat returned home today and immediately embraced her boy friend.

Suzann Laing, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing, arrived here with her parents from Kansas City and was met by her "No. 1 beau," Michael Cook, 17, and her older sister, Sheri, 22.

Authorities called off a three-state search for the girl Wednesday night when she was located at the home of a teen-aged girl in Kansas City. Suzann had been missing since Sunday when she walked off the campus of Brownell Hall, a girls' boarding school in Omaha.

Her mother confirmed that Suzann had run away "on impulse" after a quarrel with Cook. However, the quarrel was forgotten when Suzann saw her boy friend upon her arrival at the railroad station.

ATTENDS COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHY AND SURGERY

Claude H. Lewis, son of Oliver Lewis of Stonefort, is a member of the freshman class at the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, Kirksville, Mo. Mr. Lewis did his preosteopathic work at Southern Illinois University.

She rushed into his arms, and they stood in a lengthy embrace. Neither Suzann or her boy friend would talk about her disappearance.

Laing is a prominent dentist and the family is well known in equestrian circles in Iowa. Suzann has appeared in several horse shows.

French Author Wins Nobel Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Existentialist French author Albert Camus was awarded the 1957 Nobel Prize for literature today.

He was the second youngest writer in history ever to win the high honor. Britain's Rudyard Kipling was the only one younger when he won it.

Camus was given this year's $40,000 prize for "his important literary production which, with clear-sighted earnestness, illuminates the problems of the human conscience in our time."

Camus has won worldwide fame for a number of novels and plays noted for their bitter outlook on life. His best-known novel, "The Plague," is typical of his work. It speaks for the disillusioned French generation which grew up just in time to face World War II.

Forest Service Completes Eddyville Wildlife Areas

According to District Ranger C. A. Gregory, sixteen game food patches and four ponds were recently completed by the Forest Service on the Shawnee National Forest within a mile square area northwest of Eddyville.

Following specifications made by Bill Casey of the Conservation Department each food patch is about one acre in size and the ponds are one-tenth square. When the ponds fill and the game food seedlings develop, deer, quail, and other upland wildlife ought to find their range bigger and better than it was.

These developments mark the start of a broad program intended to make National Forest lands more useful and therefore more productive for all wildlife. Under an agreement between the Illinois Department of Conservation which furnishes the money and technical planning, while the Shawnee National Forest provides the land suitable in size and location, and work supervision, this cooperative effort hopes to develop a wildlife resource for greater economic and recreation benefits for Illinois.

SIU's Growth Is Described in Magazine

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University's recent growth is described in detail in the October issue of Nation's Business.

Southern is "one school which has already suffered the growing pains colleges generally will have in the next 10 to 20 years," the article states.

Drastic changes such as have been made at SIU are in store for other colleges and universities across the country because the college age population is zooming, and demands for adult education and community services are increasing.

Much of the heavy pressure on college facilities and faculty arises because of a changing public conception of what a college should do, according to the article by Ed Hasse of the SIU Information Services. Universities are being asked to take part in community and industrial development, provide consultant services for business, do research on a wide variety of subjects, and many other things not related to teaching.

"All this adds up to positive prospects of a heavy financial burden," the article states. "Current thinking is that college and university operating funds will have to be raised from $3 billion a year to at least $5 billion a year and an extra $10 billion or more will be needed for building and improvements in another 10 years."

"As one result of these pressing demands on the nation's institutions of higher learning, you can expect a significant increase in pressure for federal intervention," according to the article titled "Pressures Building for Aid to Colleges."

Rigney Signs New Two-Year Giants Contract, Hopes to Get in First Division

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—He may be whistling in the dark, but Bill Rigney, right on the heels of signing a new two-year contract as manager of the San Francisco Giants, said today that he hoped to get the club into the first division in their initial venture on the Pacific Coast.

"I'm counting on two things," said Rigney, a local boy who will be starting his third season at the helm of the club. "One is that the fan enthusiasm we expect from San Francisco people will be contagious and instill a new spirit in to our club, such as happened at Milwaukee; and the other is our hope to land at least one more good, solid ball player."

Rigney, 38, said he will swap any man on the club with the exception of Willie Mays and Johnny Antonelli.

"And I might even consider trading Johnny away if we could get enough help for him. I consider Johnny the best left-handed hurler in the National League," said Bill.

He also predicted a great year for Mays.

"Willie, who has been around New York all these years, is tickled pink with the idea of playing in San Francisco," said Rigney. "I think he'll move out here. And I'm sure he'll hit better in this ball park. The Polo Grounds was not made for Willie's type of hitting."

"In fact, I think our whole club will be stronger late in the season here than it was in New York. The humidity back there saps the strength of the players. It will be cool at all times here."

Rigney should know. He was born in nearby Alameda, played baseball in the Pacific Coast league for several years and currently lives across the bay in Walnut Creek—about 15 miles from Seals Stadium.

Spartans, Iowa Top Big Ten in Offense, Defense

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan State and Iowa, among the Big Ten's unbeaten teams, dominate the conference on both offense and defense, league statistics showed today.

The Spartans, who have averaged 525.5 yards per game, were first on offense and second on defense. Iowa, second on offense, led in defense and allowed its only opponent, Indiana, minus 30 yards rushing.

Minnesota, which along with Michigan State has beaten two conference foes, was 7th on offense and 5th on defense, while Wisconsin, victor over Purdue in its only conference appearance, was 3rd on defense and 4th on offense.

Michigan State athletes also dominated individual statistics. Half back Walt Kowalczyk led in rushing with 157 yards and a 6.8 average, but Wisconsin's Danny Lew is, who has played in only one game, was 2nd with 134 yards and a 16.7 average.

Jim Ninowski of Michigan State led in passing with 14 completions in 19 tries for 224 yards and led in total offense with 224 yards. He has thrown for three touchdowns. Illinois' Tom Haller was second in both total offense and passing, with 10 completions in 13 tries for 183 yards. His total offense gain was 175 yards.

Dave Kaiser of Michigan State led the pass receivers with six catches for 102 yards, while Rhody Tuszka of Minnesota led in punt returns with a 40.4 average. Dick Larson of Minnesota was 1st in punt returns with a 35.2 yard average and Tom Fletcher of Purdue was 1st in kickoff returns with a 20 yard average.

Bull Dogs Play Strong Herrin Tigers Friday Night at Taylor Field

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs return to Taylor Field Friday night to meet the strong Herrin Tigers, tied with Centralia for tops in the South Seven conference football race.

And the locals, who fell 48-0 last week at Centralia, will be playing the first of three home games in a row. Next week it will be Carbondale in the Homecoming tilt, followed by West Frankfort the following Friday night.

Coach Lawrence Caluffetti kept his boys inside last night, devoting the practice time to a chalk talk by Caluffetti and several laps around the gym floor by the boys. Previously this week the Bull Dogs had undergone heavy workouts.

Caluffetti, who will have two backfield men out of action, was doing some shifting around this week. David Dalton, second string halfback who was out of action at Centralia because of a knee injury, still is unable to play. Also out of the Herrin game will be Ray Hassett, first string quarterback who suffered an injury to a knee early in the Centralia contest.

Gary Aldridge, first string guard, took over the quarterback chores when Hassett left the game and he'll be No. 1 quarterback Friday night. Mickey Stone, regular halfback, is learning the quarterback job so he can step in if Aldridge has to leave the game. To give the team another halfback, Carl Fleming, an end, is working at this post.

There'll be only one other South Seven conference game this weekend—Marion at Mt. Vernon. Other conference teams will play as follows: Benton will be host to Cairo, West Frankfort will entertain El-

Pacers to Take Spotlight at Cahokia Downs

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. — Pacers take the spotlight at Cahokia Downs tonight as the current meet moves into the fourth night of action. The fourth of the week's stakes features, for pacers, brought in another bumper entry of 21 sidewheelers which necessitated splitting the event into two divisions. Post time tonight is set for the usual 8:15.

To be contested as the seventh and eighth races on the card, the seventh will feature fillies and mares and, with the absence of anything that appears to be a pronounced favorite, the affair has all the earmarks of a wide open contest. Divisional battles will be over the one mile course.

If a pre-post betting choice could be installed it is quite likely to be the Herman Foist entry of Seattle Rose and Babs Lee which will carry the silks of the ace Bedford, Ky., driver. Strong contention is expected to come from Lily Scott, entered by Gibson White, son of the dean of all American harness horse drivers, Ben White of Lexington, Ky. Also expected to get her share of support will be Peggy Colby, the hard hitting 4-year old from the Bernard Ryan stable who dropped a photo decision on opening night after displaying terrific stamina in the closing strides of a six furlong dash.

Back for a second swing at Cahokia opposition will be Dusty Trask, the surprising dead-heat winner in the Inaugural Pace opening night who came into prominence by splitting the front end of the purse with highly favored Diana Abbe. A 30-1 longshot in the pre-race wagering prior to its smashing opening night performance, Dusty Trask should draw its share of support off that performance as it matches strides with such good ones as Mr. Pogel, Swing Shift Ned Rosecroft, Boomtown, Gold Nugget, Anthony's Dream, Jerry McCoy, Billy O'Henry, Blue Flash and Ozark Pride.

Greenberg, Fired as Indians' General Manager, to Help Board Select Successor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A "keenly disappointed" Hank Greenberg volunteered today to serve as unofficial advisor to the Cleveland Indians in the selection of his own successor as general manager of the Tribe.

Board Chairman William R. Daley said Greenberg would advise the executive committee of the club's board of directors in finding a new general manager "as quickly as possible." The board voted Wednesday to "notify" Greenberg that his services no longer were required.

Daley had no sooner announced the decision that the deposed front-office boss volunteered to advise the committee selecting his replacement, and also denied rumors of a contemplated shift for the Cleveland franchise.

Greenberg, who held the position since 1950 and watched home gate receipts dwindle from 1,727,464 to

724,000 during his tenure, admitted he was "keenly disappointed."

"But I plan to keep my stock and remain interested in the team's welfare," Greenberg added.

Remains on Board

Greenberg, as second-largest shareholder with an estimated 15-20 per cent of stock, will stay on as one of the Tribe's 13 directors. His tenure as general manager ceases Jan. 1, though his salary, estimated at $60,000 a year, continues through the 1958 campaign.

Insiders were wondering who might succeed Greenberg. Daley himself said the board had "not to my knowledge" received any bids for the post.

These names are mentioned most prominently: Bill Dewitt, Bill Veeck, Al Lopez, Paul Richards, and even Bob Feller, Bucky Harris, and Muddy Ruel.

Possibly the front-runner is Dewitt, who said he has not heard from the Indians, but that he would "be interested" if the job were offered.

Veeck, former general manager of the Tribe, isn't interested in working as a "hired hand," but prefers instead to purchase the club. It is not for sale.

The Department of Agriculture Engineering at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture plans to commemorate its 25th anniversary on Homecoming week end, October 18 and 19.

Pacific Coast To Discuss Future Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast League board of directors will meet at the El Rancho motel in Sacramento on Nov. 1 to discuss plans for the future—if any.

President Leslie O'Connor said today the session would start at 10 a. m. and the main order of business would be to discuss the "notice of intentions" to draft the San Francisco and Los Angeles territories by the Giants and the Dodgers.

These two clubs already have taken over the territories, with the Giants pushing out the Seals in San Francisco and the Dodgers the Angels and Hollywood Stars in Los Angeles.

They also will vote on the sale of the Seals to the Giants, who gave cash and their Minneapolis franchise in the American Association to the Boston Red Sox for the local rights. The deal has to be approved by the PCL.

The directors also probably will take into consideration the realignment of the league. Some are talking about adding Phoenix, Ariz., from the Arizona-Mexico league; Salt Lake City, Utah, from the Pioneer League; and Spokane, Wash., which is not in organized baseball right now.

Employment Up In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD — Non-farm employment in Illinois reached 3,543,800 at mid-September, an increase of more than 29,000 from the previous month, Labor Director Roy F. Cummins reported today.

Cummins said the September figure was up 15,400 from employment levels a year earlier, and is the highest since December, 1956.

The labor director said increased government employment due to the opening of schools, plus seasonal upswings in manufacturing industries, accounted for much of the increase.

The net gain for the month in government employment was 16,600; and the number of persons employed in factories in the state moved up by 9,300. The total jobs in manufacturing industries, however, was 1,272,700, about 27,000 below this time last year.

Cummins said employment in durable goods industries and soft goods industries continued to climb. He said durable goods industries showed a net employment gain during the month of 7,100; non-durable or soft goods industries indicated a net employment gain of 2,200 employees.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Scherrer Get Free Vacation Trip to Hawaii

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Scherrer of Shawneetown will leave Monday for a vacation trip to California and Hawaii. The specially prepared itinerary calls for four days in Los Angeles, and Hollywood, prior to a week in Hawaii.

The free vacation trip is the result of winning a sales contest sponsored by the International Harvester Company. The Scherrer Equipment Company, Eldorado, topped all dealers in the contest by selling 165.4 percent of the contest quota.

Qualifications for winning the "Let Yourself Go" trips were: sell the required number of tractors, combines and hay balers; hold a public field or commercial job demonstration by August 15, 1957; have an open house showing of new model tractors; make an average of three on-the-farm or on-the-job demonstrations for each tractor delivered between November 1, 1956, and September 21, 1957.

Three prizes were offered in the contest. They were, a fishing trip if you sold 100 percent of your 1957 retail quota; trip to Los Angeles, for selling 130 percent, and the vacation to Hawaii for selling 160 percent of the quota.

Also in connection with the trip to Los Angeles will be the 56th annual convention of the National Retail Farm Equipment Association. The Scherrers will leave the Evansville airport for their trip.

Among the places listed on the itinerary of the California trip are Disneyland, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Hollywood motion picture and radio studios, Brentwood, the Riviera and its country clubs, the Pacific Ocean and millionaires' homes along the beach of Santa Monica from the Palisades, and other interesting sites.

On Thursday, October 24, those winning the top award, and their wives, will leave Los Angeles for Honolulu.

The group will be taken on a drive up tropical Mount Tantalus, where they will view Honolulu, pass Punahou School and the University of Hawaii. Stops will be made at Punchbowl National Cemetery (the Arlington of the Pacific) and then will return through the beautiful residential district. Shopping tours will also be conducted as well as many other breathtaking events.

The vacationers will have Friday dinner served under the stars and the glorious moon of the Hawaiian Village, with the tempo of Hawaiian music for dancing.

On Saturday the noon luncheon will be at the Moano hotel under the famous Banyan Tree in Banyan Court where the broadcast of "Hawaii Calls" can be heard directly from the veranda.

Following a day of play on Sunday in the forever spring weather, three more days of sightseeing, including a visit to Pearl Harbor, will be on the agenda for the winners of the free vacation trip.

Widow of Auto Crash Victim Asks Damages

Pearl R. Smith, widow of William F. Smith of near Shawnee town who was killed in an auto crash on January 11, 1957, has filed a complaint, as administrator of the estate, against two taverns in which she demands judgment in the sum of $20,000.

The complaint, filed in Gallatin County Circuit Court by the law firm of Rumsey & Dennis, names George Kowalis and Pearl Kowalis, doing business as Pearl's Harbor and Vellie Bishop, doing business as Bishop's tavern, defendants.

WILL COUPLES OBSERVE BOTH ANNIVERSARIES?

It is not unusual for two or more couples to be at the home of Gallatin County Clerk and Mrs. Yules Wren at one time in quest of marriage licenses. However, on Saturday, October 12, there were three couples there simultaneously, and the man and woman of each pair had the same last names. They were Herman Johnson Jr. 29, and Wanda Johnson, 28, both of Cedar Lake, Ind.; Eugene Sutton, 37, and Revina Sutton, 32, both of Slaughter, Ky.; and Clarence Stone, 45, and Lennie Stone, 41, both of Henderson, Ky. It was learned that all the prospective brides and grooms had been married before to each other and were giving wedded life another trial. Later the same day another couple obtained licenses under similar circumstances. The parties were Hendricks G. Lupton, 26, and Barbara Lupton, 25, both of Evansville, Ind.

The group will be taken on a drive up tropical Mount Tantalus, where they will view Honolulu, pass Punahou School and the University of Hawaii. Stops will be made at Punchbowl National Cemetery (the Arlington of the Pacific) and then will return through the beautiful residential district. Shopping tours will also be conducted as well as many other breathtaking events.

Eldorado High School Notes

HOME COMING CELEBRATION NOV. 1-2
Homecoming at the Eldorado Township high school will be celebrated Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1 and 2.

The Senior class play and coronation of Homecoming Queen is listed for Friday. Saturday afternoon there will be the homecoming parade and Saturday night Benton will be the visiting team for the annual homecoming football game.

Five girls have been nominated for Homecoming Queen — Judy Bramlet, Myra Cox, Linda Flannigan, Susan Scribner and Janice Sutton. The Queen and members of the court will not be known until the time for the coronation following the Senior play.

Faculty directors for the coronation ceremony are Mrs. Celestine Wood, Mrs. Laura McDermott, Mrs. Mary O'Brien.

The title of the play is "Take Care of My Little Girl."

OLD GYMNASIUM IS REMODELED

One phase of the building and remodeling program at the ETHS has been completed.

The old gymnasium has been completely remodeled and redecorated for the girls' physical education program and has been occupied for a little more than a week.

The department consists of a shower room with green and white interior, a dressing room which is beige with gray tile and locker space for 356 girls.

In the dressing room are extra locker space and dressing room facilities.

A game room is provided for individual sports such as table tennis and shuffleboard.

The expanded girls' physical education program includes speedball, square dancing, tumbling, basketball, folk dancing, deck tennis, volleyball, softball, archery, badminton, relays, physical fitness exercises and leadership classes.

Work is being rushed to completion on the new building program, which includes a large gymnasium and additional classrooms for music, agricultural shop and industrial arts.

During the pigeon racing season 900,000 birds and their attendants are transported by British Rail ways to various points for release in the racing marathons.

Green Attends Smith- Alsop Convention

GOP Leader Says Tax Cuts 'Mandatory'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican congressional leader said today taxes must be reduced next year despite additional defense spending which he said apparently will be necessary.

The assertion came from Rep. Richard M. Simpson (Pa.), a high-ranking minority member of the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.

His assertion that a tax cut is "mandatory" next year came less than 48 hours after Vice President Richard M. Nixon threw cold water on hopes for early tax relief.

Nixon said Monday that with Russia's satellite circling the earth the nation must regard its military strength as a matter of far greater importance than the "understandable desire" for tax relief.

Simpson expressed his views in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in Chicago. A summary of his remarks was released here in advance.

"We can and must cut taxes despite additional spending that will apparently be necessary in the Defense Department," Simpson said.

Any boost in defense spending can be offset by reduced spending on other federal agencies not linked with the defense effort, he said, and this would prevent any overall increase in spending.

The Ways and Means Committee will start tax hearings Jan. 7, he said, and he will "insist" that a major tax reduction be considered at the hearings.

Shift Larson To New Post

U. S. Information Chief Replaced By Allen In Move to Placate Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur Larson, one of the bright young men of the Republican Party, is being replaced as Chief of the U. S. Information Agency in an apparent move to placate congressional budget cutters.

Larson's shift to a new post was disclosed at a time when the USIA is faced with one of its greatest challenges in countering the tremendous propaganda victory scored by Russia in announcing its Sputnik and other scientific advances.

The White House announced Wednesday that Larson, whose agency's funds were severely cut last year after a bitter congressional budget battle, will be replaced by George V. Allen, one of the State Department's top trouble shooters.

Sometimes called the philosopher of "Modern Republicanism," Larson will become a special assistant to the President. He will be in charge of "special projects."

Mrs. Mary Morris Vance Of Shawneetown Dies

Mrs. Mary Morris Vance, 73, resident of Shawneetown, died in the Lightner hospital in Harrisburg, Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Shaffer, Detroit, Mich., and Mrs. Edith Fisher, Shawneetown, and her son, Bert Morris, Mt. Pleasant, Mich.

The body is in the care of the Cox funeral home and was returned to the family home in Shawneetown to lie in state at 5 p. m. today. Funeral plans have not been completed.

District Governor to Make Official Visit to Harrisburg Rotary Club Oct. 21

The Rotary club of Harrisburg on Oct. 21 will be host to Willis G. Swartz, Governor of District 651 of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the 48 Rotary clubs in Southern Illinois. He will address the local club and confer with President C. R. Gardner, Secretary Louie E. Beltz and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Swartz is Dean of the Graduate School, Foreign Student Adviser and Professor of Government at Southern Illinois University and has held numerous offices in the Carbondale Rotary club, as well as in District 651. He was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th annual convention in Lucerne Switzerland, last May. He is one of 249 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,500 Rotary clubs which have a membership of 446,000 business and professional executives in 102 countries throughout the free world.

Wherever Rotary clubs are located, President Gardner pointed out in discussing the Governor's visit, their activities are similar to the Rotary club of Harrisburg because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men, promoting community improvements, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of good will, understanding and peace among all the peoples of the world.

Willis G. Swartz

Each year, the world-wide service organization continues to grow in numbers and in strength, President Gardner added. During the past fiscal year, 341 new Rotary clubs were organized in 41 countries of North, South and Central America, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Islands of the Pacific, and six countries were added to Rotary's roster — Cambodia, French Cameroons, French Equatorial Africa, Gaudeloupe, Liechtenstein and Uganda.

No Sanctuary for Aggressors if Russia Attacks Turkey, U. S. Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — American officials said today Russia is now on notice that a Russian attack on Turkey will bring the fury of U. S. retaliation against the Soviet Union itself.

There will be no sanctuary for Soviet aggressors as the Chinese Communists had in Korea, they said, if the Russian action is overt. Use of "volunteers," however, probably would not bring any retaliation against Russia, they said.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told a news conference Wednesday he did not think a Middle East war likely. But he said nonetheless this country must be on guard lest Russia attack Turkey.

Charges American Prodding

Later Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko charged that the Turkish general staff, with American "prodding," was planning to attack Communist-backed Syria immediately after Turkey's Oct. 27 elections.

American officials with special knowledge of Middle East affairs said they do not know whether Russia actually is trying to provoke a war between Syria and Turkey. But the officials expressed misgivings about the possible results of the Soviet propaganda campaign.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in San Francisco Wednesday that President Eisenhower and Dulles were giving priority attention to working out a peaceful solution to the problem. He said the United States' "great fear" was that a single "miscalculation" could set off a war in the area.

Will Attack the Attacker

Dulles was asked Wednesday, if

in defending Turkey, this country would do so "by attacking the attacker."

"Certainly, if there is an attack on Turkey by the Soviet Union," the secretary replied, "it would not mean a purely defensive operation by the United States with the Soviet Union a privileged sanctuary from which to attack Turkey."

U. S. officials said this does not necessarily mean an all-out American attack on Russia in event of a Russian attack on Turkey. They said there is no way of predicting this country's moves until the specific circumstances are known.

European Tour Deferred by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today that a projected European tour by Vice President Richard Nixon has been deferred until next year.

The White House said Nixon had planned to visit Europe this fall. The trip will be postponed, it said, until after the next session of Congress.

The White House explained that the vice president could not make the trip this fall and still fulfill commitments in Washington.

Defense Dep't Denies Secrecy Gag Ordered on Satellite Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department denied today it has ordered a secrecy gag on U. S. rocket and earth satellite programs.

Army, Navy and Air Force orders issued Oct. 9 told officers and men to steer clear of the controversy stirred by Russia's successful launching of a satellite five days earlier. The orders were released Wednesday by the House subcommittee on government information, which plans public hearings on the matter.

A Defense Department spokesman said today he interpreted the orders to mean military officials who weren't informed on missile and satellite matters should not make public comments.

"The orders were intended to say in effect that 'unless you are an expert in the satellite field, keep quiet,'" he said.

He contended the nation has been given full information on technical aspects of the satellite by scientists, and that President Eisenhower himself fully discussed military implications in a 700-word statement last week.

Words Nearly Same

This explanation did not jibe with dispatches from Barcelona, Spain, on an international scientific meeting there during the past two weeks. The United Press quoted some of the military's top experts on satellites and space research at Barcelona as saying their lips were sealed on orders from Washington.

The Air Force order directed commanders to see that all personnel "refrain from making public comment pertaining to missile or satellite matters at this time" since "any comments are almost certain to be misinterpreted."

The Navy called attention to a speech made the day before by Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of naval research, and ordered officers to confine their statements to his remarks unless they got clearance from the naval chief of information.

missile or satellite situation" because they would be "subject to misinterpretation."

The Defense Department said it did not send out a blanket order to the three military branches on the matter.

Pentagon reporters had reason to complain about secrecy Wednesday when the Air Force finally admitted that four attempts to launch a 1,000 to 4,000-mile-high rocket from a balloon at Eniwetok Atoll in the Pacific had failed. Newsmen had been led to believe that because of bad weather no launching attempt had been made.

This secrecy was described as the result of almost traditional hesitancy to admit failure rather than an outgrowth of the Oct. 9 missile-satellite orders.

Harrison Wood to Address Southern Illinois Dinner Club Saturday, Oct. 19

Harrison Wood, born in a little town in Iowa, a traveler of the continents of Europe and Asia, and now living in Evanston Ill., author, radio commentator and crusader for the free enterprise system and foe of creeping socialism in centralized government, will be the guest of honor of members of the Southern Illinois Dinner club at its meeting Saturday, Oct. 19, at the Harrisburg Country Club.

Said to be one of the nation's top ten platform speakers, Wood has addressed many Town Halls and State Teachers Associations and spoken to important groups in Canada, Mexico and Cuba. Walter Winchell said of him, "Harrison Wood adds the paprika touch to world news."

In his address here which he titles "This Changing World," and which is also the name of one of his well received books, Wood is expected to comment on what can be expected from the new defense moves in Europe and the red-hot situation in the Middle East.

A student of global demographic affairs, Wood has often forecast events which later turned out to

Predicts Eventual 15,000 at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The president of Southern Illinois University predicts that enrollment on the Carbondale campus will eventually reach 15,000.

Speaking before the Southern Illinois Schoolmasters Club, Delyte Morris said a student body of 15,000 "would not be in the best interests of the students or the taxpayers."

SIU's enrollment this fall passed the 8,300-mark, including the Alton and East St. Louis residence centers. This represents an increase of almost 30 per cent over last year.

Couple Spends $11,349 Found In Bank Account

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Bank of Arkansas yelled foul and is demanding a refund from a couple who found $11,349.87 entered in their account through error and promptly spent it.

To make it worse, the bank said in a suit brought against Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alexander, the Alexanders withdrew $3,800 of the money that wasn't theirs and deposited it with a competitor, the First National Bank.

The $11,349.87 was erroneously deposited to the Alexander account Aug. 8. The same day the Alexanders opened their account with a deposit of only $114.80. At the end of August, the Alexanders got a statement showing they had $11,349.87 on deposit.

On Sept. 6, according to the suit, Alexander bought an airplane, paying with a $4,500 check.

Three days later, the suit charged, the Alexanders gave a $2,930 check for a new automobile, which was registered in Mrs. Alexander's name.

On Sept. 10 the Alexanders opened an account in the First National Bank with a $3,800 check on the Bank of Arkansas.

The Bank of Arkansas honored the checks for the airplane, automobile and the First National account before it discovered the error.

Heads Southern Division Illinois Bar

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Supreme Court Justice Byron House of Nashville is the new president of the 24-county southern division of the Illinois Bar Assn.

House was elected Tuesday at the association's 41st annual meeting. Also elected were Perry County State's Atty. Lloyd Middleton of Pinckneyville as vice president and Du Quoin City Judge R. K. Peek as secretary.

The group voted to meet next October in Du Quoin.

Receive Warm Greeting From Eisenhower at Airport for 4-Day Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Britain's captivating Queen Elizabeth II swept into Washington today to the cheers of thousands of her American "cousins" and a warm yet solemn greeting from President Eisenhower.

The President, who went to National Airport to welcome the 31-year-old monarch, said her visit strengthens the ties binding the United States and Britain.

"In the warm and strong cooperation between your country and our own lies the best hope for the security and peace of the world," he told the Queen.

The Queen, responding to the President's welcome, brought greetings from "my peoples of every race and creed in the British Commonwealth of nations." Roll Out Red Carpet

All air traffic stopped and engines were silenced during a 20-minute airport ceremony in which the nation formally rolled out its fanciest red carpet welcome to the Queen and her dashing consort, Prince Philip.

Many thousands lined the road from the airport, along the Potomac and through Washington to the White House, which will be the royal couple's home in a four-day visit here.

The young Queen and Philip flew here from historic Williamsburg and Jamestown, Va., this morning in the President's plane, the Columbine III. Wednesday they had opened their American visit at the historic scenes of the first British settlement in the New World and the cradle of the American Revolution.

Overcast skies and light rain marred some of the story-book pageantry of the occasion here.

Drops of rain began falling just as the Queen and Prince, with Eisenhower seated between them, drove away in the President's transparent-topped limousine.

A parade through flag-decked streets started their ceremony-packed state visit.

Mrs. Eisenhower waited at the north portico of the White House to give them a personal "front porch" welcome.

The Queen, seemingly tireless in the face of unending ceremony, smiled broadly as she strode through the elaborate greeting ceremony with calm assurance.

The Prince, who has captured the hearts of American women, was obviously in very good humor. He flashed his handsome smile and chatted freely with greeters.

The Queen wore a mink jacket when she boarded the plane in Virginia. But when she alighted at Washington she was wearing a fur-trimmed blue cloth coat.

Crowds which began forming three hours earlier were swollen by an out-pouring of government workers just before the parade passed.

The turnout appeared to be considerably below expectations—far

Blonde Beauty UI Homecoming Queen

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Miss Carlotta Joan Hagen, 21, Sycamore, a University of Illinois junior, will reign as the university's 47th homecoming queen this weekend.

The blonde and blue-eyed beauty was named homecoming queen today. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hagen. Her father operates a retail hardware and appliance store.

She will be crowned Miss Illinois at a university pep rally Friday night.

Flu-Like Epidemic Spreads in Dixon Retarded School; Five Dead

DIXON, Ill. (AP) — A flu-like epidemic has spread through a crowded school for retarded children, claiming five lives.

Dr. Otto L. Bettag, state welfare director, said that pneumonia was the immediate cause of death but that it apparently had been brought on by the influenza attack.

Officials at the Dixon State School said that the epidemic will probably continue for more than a week. About 25 per cent of the institution's 4,883 inmates are on the sick list. There are 850 employees, 70 of whom also were stricken.

Bettag said the disease, apparently Asian flu, began Sept. 30, and reached epidemic stage Oct. 11. The first death occurred Oct. 5, and the latest Wednesday.

The school, which is said to be almost 50 per cent overcrowded, cares for adults as well as young people. Three of the persons who died were adults, one of them an 84-year-old woman.

Superintendent Robert Wallace said, "Many of our inmates are particularly susceptible to infectious disease because of certain physical conditions. When flu strikes, higher death rates usually follow in this type institution."

The hospital has clamped a lid on all visiting educational activi-

Dr. James H. Callis Associates with Dr. W. D. Tuttle

Dr. W. D. Tuttle announced today that Dr. James H. Callis is now associated with him for the practice of medicine at offices in the Lightner hospital.

Dr. Callis is a native of the Madisonville, Ky., area and comes to Harrisburg from Evansville, Ind., where he served his internship at St. Mary's hospital. He was graduated from the University of Louisville Medical School in 1956. He is a veteran of World War II.

Mrs. Callis and their baby son will come to Harrisburg at a later date. Presently Dr. Callis is living at the Russell Lynn home at 119 South Skaggs street.

Authorities said antibiotic treatment had been given all the death victims but that the antibiotics were not proof against the pneumonia.

Specimens from post-mortem examinations of four of the dead persons have been forwarded to a laboratory for analysis.

Woman Receives Year Sentence In County Court

County Judge Trafton Dennis yesterday sentenced Eva Duxall to a term of one year at the women's institution at Dwight.

She was charged both with selling mortgaged property and with child abandonment. Dennis gave her a sentence of one year on each charge, the terms to run concurrently.

The judge also fined Jessie W. Luker, a truck driver hauling a big load of piling from Alabama to Chicago, a sum of $200 and costs and entered into the judgment that if the fine is not paid, he shall serve out the time in the county jail at a rate of $1.50 per day. Luker had been arrested and charged with driving while intoxicated.

MAIL: Mrs. Helen Puckett of Easton, Wash., former resident of Harrisburg and a Daily Register subscriber, writes a note and sends a clipping about a 500-yard mountain slide which her husband, Lowell, witnessed.

"I thought I mailed this last week, but since I didn't I'll just put a note in and give you some news about one of your subscribers—and, of course, a former citizen of Harrisburg," the letter says.

"Last Saturday in The Register was an article on the bad slide here on Snoqualmie Pass. My husband, Lowell Puckett, was working about 500 yards from it, when 'the side of the mountain came down.' And to get home that night he had to drive four and one-half hours over three passes and through snow.

"One of his fellow workers (and our neighbor) was within three cars of being under the slide, and he saw one of the three dead men..."

"We enjoy our home paper very much and look forward to it almost as much as a letter from home."

MORE MAIL: Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Temple of the Goodwill Mission in Marion who are well-known in Harrisburg have sent a clipping from the Marion Daily Republican telling about the Temples appealing for food and clothing for a family of nine stranded on the way from Evansville to California.

"Anything you might say about the mission and the good people who helped these stranded people will be appreciated beyond words by Brother and Sister Temple," the letter said. "We've only been in this mission work two months."

HUMOR DEPT.: "Yes, I'll give you a job. Sweep out the store."
"Sir, but I'm a college graduate."
"Okay, I'll show you how."

Triumph In Advance

Mike Todd's Party at Madison Square Garden Tonight an Extravagant Affair

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP) — Mike Todd, a producer who once made a movie and can't seem to forget it, has set up temporary residence for tonight in Madison Square Garden to celebrate the movie's first birthday.

If you are interested in seeing Mike Todd's party, Mike Todd, six mummery bands and a 100-piece orchestra, Mike Todd's wife, Sir Cedric Hardwicke riding an elephant some cowboys and bagpipers, a 20-foot "Oscar" made of chrysanthemums, film clips from Mike Todd's movie, a short film telling how Mike Todd made his movie, 18,000 people eating 10,000 pints of Mike Todd's ice cream and Mike Todd's birthday cake ("It's 14 feet high and 30 feet at the bottom and Gah! how will Liz Taylor ever be able to cut it?" cries the press agent in press agent-type agony), you can catch it on CBS-TV.

NBC-TV will present "Green Pastures," which is only a spectacular.

CBS-TV has dubbed its extravaganza, "Around the World in 90 Minutes," a split geneflection to the title of Todd's movie and the title of the show displaced tonight, "Playhouse 90."

CBS Sends First Team

The network is throwing its first team into the brawl—Walter Cronkite, Bill Leonard and Jim McKay, aided by 11 cameras and a technical crew of 48, will call the play-by-play from the Garden. Quentin Reynolds will handle the wrap-up from a studio.

Todd is giving away so many gifts to his guests (he got them cuff) that he'll have to store many of them in a parking lot near the Garden. CBS-TV will keep a camera in the parking lot all evening, which certainly should mark some sort of first for television.

Tons Of Gifts

Among the gifts the camera will scan: 40 Siamese cats from the King of Thailand, three foreign cars, three domestic cars, an airplane (complete with flying lessons), 30 ivory backscratchers, a rickshaw, a couple of motor scooters and 50 elephant bells.

Inside the Garden, Todd will trot out a pageant of floats, clowns, horses and stuff like that there. Armfuls of celebrities will be on hand who won't entertain but may grunt prettily into the camera. In fact, a current gag has it that Todd may introduce Ed Sullivan from his audience.

And Ordinary People

The celebrity guests along with 1000 ordinary slob (picked by lot by movie exhibitors in some 60 cities) will be forced to 1000 pizzas, 300 pounds of salami, 15,000 hot dogs, several hogsheds of coffee, 500 gallons of cider and several thousand gallons of champagne. Presumably, guests will be required to furnish their own bicarbonate of soda.

"We're getting everything free—the food, the drink, the gifts. Everybody wants to get into the act," reports an ecstatic Todd associate. "CBS is even paying us, for the right to televise the event."

For Todd, therefore, the evening stacks up as a triumph in advance. He'll get 90 minutes to plug his movie before a nationwide TV audience. And he'll get paid for it. He'll also get a chance to plug his upcoming movie, "Don Quixote."

All this and Elizabeth Taylor, too.

Brushy

Handkerchief Shower Honors Mrs. Carl Ray of Brushy

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Carl Ray called at her home Friday, to give her a handkerchief shower. She will leave soon to join her husband in Oak Forest, where he will teach this winter.

Those present at the shower were: Mrs. Earl Callard, Mrs. Kenneth Abney, Mrs. Nell Bond, Mrs. Hubert Spencer, Mrs. Hobart Somers, Mrs. Ethel Abney, Mrs. James Bond, Mrs. Oran Call, Mrs. Aline Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Bond, Mrs. Waldo Abney, Mrs. Cleo Bond, Mrs. Harry Libby, Mrs. Wilburn Bond and Mrs. Luther Beers. Refreshments were served and game prizes were awarded to Mamie Libby, Nell Ray, Irma Spencer and Beulah Bond.

"Golden Echoes," a gospel chorus from Centralia, will sing at Mt. Moriah church, Sunday at 7 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The families of Otto Henn and John C. Small were guests at a dinner in the home of Charles Lockwood, Saturday, to celebrate Mrs. Lockwood's birthday.

The "Good Neighbor" club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. L. Gollhofer. Mrs. Otto Henn will install the new officers at this meeting. Mrs. Clifford Haford is the retiring president.

Rev. Volla Sittig, pastor of Union Chapel, closed a two weeks' revival meeting at the Galatia Presbyterian church, Saturday evening. There was a fellowship dinner at noon on Sunday at the church.

Mrs. Steven Takacs

Entertains Home Bureau Unit

Mrs. Steven Takacs was hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Galatia Home Bureau unit. The minor lesson, "Home Medicine Chest," was presented by Mary Margaret Small who emphasized the need to discard old medicines and store poisons safely by separating them from internal medicines. Edith Small illustrated the major lesson, "Flower Arrangements," with bouquets of fresh garden flowers as well as winter bouquet materials. Mabel Cardwell arranged some of the flowers from her garden.

Mrs. Max Cochran, whose 25th wedding anniversary was on the meeting day, was presented with a silver sandwich tray, by the members of the unit. This was her second surprise of the day, since she had come to the meeting from a surprise dinner.

The November meeting will be held with three other units, in a district meeting, and the members drew the names of their new Sunshine friends at this meeting. The December meeting was planned for Dec. 7, at 7 p. m. in the John C. Small home. Husbands will be invited to share this potluck dinner and Christmas party. Refreshments were served to the 14 members present by the hostess, assisted by Elaine Gardner. The refreshments were Sunshine cake and coffee.

John Murphy Speaks

To Brushy PTA Meeting

The Brushy grade school PTA opened its meeting Thursday evening with singing. Mrs. Carney played the piano and Mrs. Jones led the singing. Mabel Hayes led the evening prayer. Lois Reynolds led the Salute to the Flag and sang a solo. Mary Margaret Small read, "A Little Girl's Essay on Husbands" and Hazel McIlrath, program chairman, introduced John Murphy, assistant county superintendent of schools, whose subject was, "Promotion."

Mr. Boyd praised the new fire alarm which helped to clear the school building in 38 seconds in a fire drill.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

"Layman's Day," an annual observance of the Methodists, will be Sunday in the Mt. Moriah-Lone Oak charge. Noble Woolard will speak at Mt. Moriah and John C. Small will speak at Lone Oak.

Contest to Select Design for SIU Nurses Uniform

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The distinctive uniform to be worn by Southern Illinois University's student nurses beginning next year will be selected from designs submitted in a contest now under way, according to Miss Stephanie Conwell, associate professor of nursing.

A year's free tuition in the Department of Nursing will be offered to the winning designer, Miss Conwell said. If that person is unable to use the prize, he or she may choose the recipient. Funds for the award have been donated privately.

Open to anyone in the nation except SIU employees, the contest places no limit on the number of drawings each participant may submit. However, all designs must be original and entered under the name of the designer.

Purpose of the contest, Miss Conwell said, is to obtain for students in SIU's new bachelor's degree nursing program an attractive uniform suitable both for street and hospital wear in all seasons.

Drawings, each showing a front and back view of the uniform as well as designs for apron and bib must not be identical to nurses' uniforms already in use at other

Xi Beta Omega Chapter Holds

Beta Sigma Phi Rush Party

The Xi Beta Omega chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a rush party for Beta Kappa chapter and its rushees at the farm home of Mrs. Mary Humm, near Equality, Tuesday evening. This was a "Kid party" for which the guests dressed as children, real and story-book. There were prizes for the prettiest, funniest, most original and the best "reason for dressing this way." The last won by Virginia Walker who said that her husband had worn the same little girl dress and blonde wig at a Halloween party a year ago, and she thought she would be prettier in it.

The guests were given paper bag favors filled with bubble gum, candy, and noisemakers.

Mrs. Humm, Xi Beta Omega chapter president, was hostess and the committee in charge of entertainment, food and transportation was headed by Mrs. Ann McGee, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Norma Keene, Mrs. Kitty Partain and Mrs. Marion Utter.

Appropriate refreshments for the "kids" were, chili, hot-dogs, potato chips, pickles, celery, carrot sticks, a most attractive variety of home made cupcakes and coffee. There were "shutter bugs" flashing "ash-bulbs" throughout the evening as "interesting" situations arose. Stunts and singing added to the happy confusion. The obvious hesitancy on the part of all of the guests to break up the party was the barometer of its success.

Guests and their costumes were as follows: Eleanor Molinarolo, "Topsy"; Gay Nell Morse, "Party Girl"; Sadie Lou Stricklin, "Little Bo Peep" (no sheep); Bettie Jackson, "Rock'n Roll"; Wilma Hall, "Baby Doll"; Ina L. Cain, "Kid-Party Dress"; Marilyn Henderson, boy, "Tough Kid"; Virginia Podorski, "Little Girl"; Billie Johnson, "Lord Fauntleroy"; LaDonna Hughes, "Little Girl"; Kitty Partain, "Middy Girl"; Vera Vaughn, "Big Sister"; Betty Prusaczky, "Pilgrim Girl"; Virginia Taylor, "Pretty Little Girl"; Lenora Brashears, "Play-Suit Girl"; Sarah Suver, "Little Girl"; Martha Dixon, "Elvis Presley Fan"; Anna Gaskins, Edna Barnett and Pinky Nelhaus, "Little Girls"; Irene Shaw, "High School Girl"; Janine Hill, "Little Red Riding Hood"; Doozie Beazley, "Spoiled Little Girl"; Gladys Ewell, "Bonnet Baby"; Mary Pumm, "Sophisticated Hostess"; Marion Utter, "Girl Scout"; Ann McGee, "Boy" and Norma Keene, "Boy."

Rushees were Edie Shingler, "Chicken-Pox Baby"; Leta Humm, "Pinafore Girl"; Wanda Taylor, "Little Bo Peep"; Marion Reynolds, "Margaret O'Brien"; Bernice McGuire, "O'Neil Girl"; Helen Stankunas, "Teen-ager"; Florence Ford, "School Girl"; Nancy Fulkerson, "Little Girl"; Margaret Smith, "Roller Rink Skater"; Jane Tempco, "Middy-Girl"; and Donna Williams and Barbara Bing, "Little Girls."

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Kitty Partain. The hostesses were Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. Hal Burnett, Miss Patricia Sayers, and Mrs. Everett Hess.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Della Palmer were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Palmer and son Lyndall, Mrs. Nina Modglin, Donald, Wanda, Brenda and Jimmy. Mrs. Donna Palmer, Joyce, John, Dean and Stanley, Mrs. Nadine Patterson and Misses Sandra Carolyn and Phillis Morse of Raleigh.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anglin, 705 West Raymond street, Harrisburg, are parents of a girl, born at the Harrisburg hospital Wednesday. The baby has been named Martha Jane and weighed seven pounds, seven ounces at birth.

institutions, Miss Conwell warned. January 15 is the deadline for entries, which are to be mailed to the Department of Nursing, Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. The decision of the judges will be final.

The person selected to receive the tuition prize must be an Illinois resident who will enter the SIU nursing program within a year, Miss Conwell said.

Michael Hillegas Chapter D. A. R.

Meets With Mrs. George Robertson

The Michael Hillegas chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution held its October meeting, Monday, at the home of Mrs. George Robertson.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Gray, regent. Mrs. Royce Cline led the members in their Pledge of Allegiance to the flag. The president general's message was read by Mrs. Sam Cape and the minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read. Mrs. Frank Gray discussed the district conference held Oct. 1 at Metropolis, which was attended by the following members of the chapter: Mrs. Gary, Mrs. Victor Humm, Mrs. Sam Cape, Mrs. Herman Boatright, and Mrs. C. A. Bacon. At the conclusion of the business meeting music was furnished by chapter members of Virginia ancestry.

Speaker for the evening was chapter member Mrs. John W. Towle, who gave an interesting review of her recent visit to the colonial homes of Virginia including Charlottesville, Jamestown, and Williamsburg. Her discussion of restored historic homes was accompanied by the showing of color slides. Views taken of the interiors of homes such as the George Wythe House, an example of Georgian Colonial architecture, and Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, an example of pure prairie beauty reflecting the outstanding talent of Thomas Jefferson, were very impressive.

The landscaping of the gardens, the age old boxwoods, and the colorful flowers surrounding these homes are truly a work of art. One of the best examples is Gunston Hall, the home of George Mason in Fairfax county. The chapter members realize that appreciation for the work done in preserving these beautiful homes for posterity cannot be fully understood until they have been visited. They are truly to be cherished not only as monuments of the past but reminders of what we should do about the future. Mrs. Towle stated, "The preservation of their ideals as well as their homes," will be as great a tribute to the former owners could ever desire of us, she said.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. Kitty Partain. The hostesses were Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. Hal Burnett, Miss Patricia Sayers, and Mrs. Everett Hess.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. Della Palmer were Mr. and Mrs. Orval Palmer and son Lyndall, Mrs. Nina Modglin, Donald, Wanda, Brenda and Jimmy. Mrs. Donna Palmer, Joyce, John, Dean and Stanley, Mrs. Nadine Patterson and Misses Sandra Carolyn and Phillis Morse of Raleigh.

P. E. O. Chapter 2 Meets

With Mrs. Sam Sape

Chapter Z, P. E. O., met in the home of Mrs. John Cape, Friday. Mrs. J. V. Cape presented the program, "Traditions, Conventions and the Home."

The next meeting will be Oct. 25, with Mrs. Slightom, hostess.

Little Rock Aftermath

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

The American political scene seems bound to be materially affected in 1958 and 1960 by the turbulent events at Little Rock this fall.

These events will alter a picture already in continuous flux as result of a swelling, changing economy, a growing, shifting population and such special factors as 1957's discrediting disclosures in the field of organized labor.

Most observers feel that the forceful line taken by President Eisenhower in the Little Rock controversy will severely handicap any effort of the Republicans to build a real party in the South in the years just ahead.

Mr. Eisenhower's own deep election inroads in the South, especially in 1956, had encouraged some to feel that now was the time to toil for a genuine two-party system there. That prospect probably has vanished now.

To the extent that Negroes participate more heavily in future elections, some GOP gain might follow.

But the belief is that this will be more than offset by major defections from among those who voted for the President last year.

On the other hand, the political experts think Republicans in northern and western states will pick up additional Negro support which could be crucial in certain populous areas where Negroes appear to hold the balance of voting power.

California, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New York fall in this category.

Obviously, northern Democrats in competing for these northern and western votes will likely feel compelled to press for strong civil rights programs. The balance in some areas may already have shifted against them because of the population flight to the conservative suburbs. They will not be inclined to take the risk of further big losses.

To urge strong civil rights projects, however, will be to put these Democrats at distinct odds with their conservative Southern colleagues. Party unity, shrewdly promoted this year by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas in the civil rights struggle in Congress, may be sorely strained.

Signs already exist that a new civil rights battle may develop in Congress in 1958. Beyond question, the effort to find common North-South ground in a 1960 Democratic platform will be made far more difficult by the sharpened differences growing out of Little Rock.

Which party will gain or lose the most in consequence of this controversy, no sensible man would try now to forecast.

It is clear only that the coalitions of voters in the North and South which produced the presidential outcome of 1956 will not exist in 1958 and 1960. Big change is in the air.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
— BY DREW PEARSON —

DREW PEARSON Says:
Khrushchev's 1957 Tactics Resemble Those of Hitler in 1937; Eisenhower Doctrine For Near East Is Virtually Torn Up; The Joke Was On J. Edgar Hoover.

WASHINGTON. — While the nation's capital is paying homage to the beautiful queen of our leading western ally, the western world is haunted by certain ominous similarities between Khrushchev's tactics in 1957 and Hitler's tactics in 1937. It was in 1937-38 that Hitler started taking over Austria and large hunks of Czechoslovakia purely by psychological warfare.

He did it by exhibiting the might of the Nazi army, by showing foreign diplomats motion pictures of Germany's military might, and by subversion inside Austria and Czechoslovakia. He didn't have to fire a single shot.

Today, 20 years later, awe of the Russian ICBM, amazement over the Sputnik, plus savage warnings from the Kremlin are doing the same thing for Khrushchev.

In the past week, the Arab world, much of previously pro-West, has started swinging into the Soviet orbit. Here are the swings:

Swing No. 1—President Chamoun of Lebanon, hitherto a staunch friend of the United States and no friend of Syria, now is backing Syria and wants to renounce the Eisenhower Doctrine. This reversal came about one week after Khrushchev launched his Sputnik and 48 hours after Khrushchev, growling viciously at Turkey, warned that Turkey would not stay alive more than 24 hours in case of war.

Lebanon leaders, listening to Khrushchev, knew that if the Red Army once obliterated Turkey it would sweep on down into the Arab world. So they jumped to get on the right side of the fence.

Swing No. 2—Simultaneous with Lebanon's rightabout-face, King Saud made a statement which just about tore up the Eisenhower Doctrine. Saud had been wined and dined by Eisenhower, receives his total income from American oil companies, has no reason to love Russia. Yet he lined up with Syria, a country which is becoming almost wholly dependent on the Kremlin.

Swing No. 3—Col. Nasser has recently been making noises about a friendlier Egyptian policy toward the United States. But one week after the launching of the Sputnik and 70 hours after Khrushchev unleashed his savage verbal blast against Turkey, Nasser landed troops in Syria to support Syria against Turkey.

All this fits into a pattern — a pattern all too similar to that which Hitler used to terrorize central Europe shortly before the start of World War II.

IRRESPONSIBLE KHRUSHCHEV
Last month, Allen Dulles, head of Central Intelligence, whose job it is to know what's going on inside Russia, stated publicly that there was ferment inside Russia and that Khrushchev seemed to be in trouble. He expected another political purge.

Other advisers picked up in Europe and the Near East bear this out. Khrushchev not only has the old Kremlin leaders against him, but the bureaucrats. Furthermore, his much-ballyhooed farm program isn't clicking. Reports on crop failures are staggering.

A dictator of Khrushchev's caliber, especially one who drinks 21 martinis before dinner, is capable of doing desperate, dangerous things—if he becomes overconfident, or if he is pushed to the wall.

Russian scientific advances obviously have made Khrushchev cocky. The political situation at home might make him desperate. I don't like to be a pessimist, but where the future of the free world is concerned, it's much better to be ready than late.

SIPPING IN A CELLAR
FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover was relaxing with Vice President Nixon and Gen. Nathan Twining, the Joint Chiefs' chairman, the other day in the basement of Tom Webb, Washington representative of Texas oil millionaire Clint Murchison.

Suddenly the voice of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus blared over the radio and launched into a scathing attack on Hoover.

The G-Man squirmed in his chair, then flushed as Faubus' voice assailed him as a "Gestapo chief."

Nixon and Twining were chuckling at Hoover's discomfort when the radio voice lit into Nixon, who had befriended the Negroes during the civil rights debate.

Twining was still grinning when he, too, came under attack. He was singled out as the nation's top military man, technically in command of federal troops in Little Rock.

Finally, the voice lashed out again at Hoover.

"I'll bet," the radio boomed, "that Hoover is getting drunk in some cellar right now."

The three dignitaries, who had been sipping cocktails in Webb's basement, looked startled. Then they caught on to the practical joke. The "broadcast" had been faked at Webb's instigation by Gordon McClendon, Texas radio executive, who did a perfect imitation of Governor Faubus.

ROYAL GO-ROUND

The State Department has issued a "protocol" warning against turny renditions of the Star-Spangled Banner and the Queen's anthem (God Save The King) by outdoor bands. . . . The White House had "no comment" on a London newspaper query about how the Eisenhowers would address their royal guests during their four-day visit. Apparently Ike and Mamie hadn't made up their minds. . . . The State Department hopes there won't be any corny, un-protocolish ad libbing by members of Congress as in 1939, when former Congressman Nat Patton of Texas loudly greeted the King and Queen of England (Elizabeth's parents) as "cousins." . . . Another mirthful memory of the 1939 reception was the show put on by the late Rep. Sol Bloom of New York, House Foreign Affairs chairman, who greeted the royal visitors in top hat and morning clothes while an assistant trailed behind Bloom, carrying the latter's cane. . . . Queen Elizabeth will receive an unusual salute at the Maryland-North Carolina football game. During the half-time ceremonies members of the two university bands will form a crown on the gridiron, with the legend "E. R. 2" spelled out under it, while playing the Queen's anthem. In addition, Elizabeth will receive a football autographed by the players of both teams and will take home a special gift from young Prince Charles—a terrapin-shaped music box which plays "Maryland, My Maryland."

More than 50 types of steel alloys are used to make the modern automobile.

Beck to Remain
In Union Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck announced today that because of court proceedings here he will not resign as Teamsters Union president in favor of President-elect James R. Hoffa.

Beck, whose term runs to Dec. 1, had planned to resign immediately from the $50,000-a-year job to let Hoffa take over.

The 44-year-old Hoffa was elected to succeed Beck at the Teamsters' recent convention in Miami Beach, Fla. Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts Monday granted a 10-day injunction forbidding Hoffa to take office at once. The order stemmed from charges the election was rigged.

Meanwhile, Hoffa has pleaded innocent to perjury charges in New York where a judge is considering when to order him to trial.

Hoffa's clouded status as president-elect could delay AFL-CIO ouster proceedings against his union, labor sources said.

The George Washington Bridge, a giant traffic link between New York and New Jersey. Photo courtesy Cities Service Company.

It takes a GIANT to reach across a river

A giant bridge stands as a familiar landmark on the local scene, conveying its traffic to a specific destination. And just as familiar is the daily newspaper, a giant medium continually conveying news and advertising into almost every home in the nation.

More than 57,000,000 newspapers are bought daily, reaching almost every prospective customer in the land. And just as a bridge connects people on opposite shores, so does the daily newspaper link people on opposite sides of business—the buyers and the sellers of goods. For wholesalers, distributors, retailers and regional manufacturers the newspaper is an indispensable courier which calls on practically every family in the local market.

If you want the fastest way to get your story across, you should be using the daily newspaper. It's the surest bridge between you and the people you want to sell.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

5 Mine Deaths In September

SPRINGFIELD 10—The State Mines and Minerals Department reported today there were five fatal accidents in Illinois coal mines during September.

Coal production last month, meanwhile, increased to 3,918,595 tons—387,086 tons more than in August and 225,839 tons more than in September last year.

Two of the September deaths occurred in a rock fall in a Franklin County mine. Two others occurred in a Marion County mine when a clod fell on miners. A fall of face coal in a Madison County mine was responsible for the fifth death.

The September toll brought to 20 the number of miners killed in the first nine months of this year.

The September coal production was reported by 127 mines in 32 counties, which employed a total of 11,387 men.

Williamson County was the top producer with 598,499 tons.

Twelve states now are using green, rather than white, signs to provide directional information to motorists.

WCTU County Convention at Eldorado Friday

The county convention of the W.C.T.U. will be held in the Eldorado First Methodist church, Friday. It will be an all day meeting and a potluck dinner will be served at the noon hour. Jane Gasaway of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church, Harrisburg, will present the morning devotion. Annual elections will be held and there will be a prayer service at noon.

To Attend Special Preview of '58 Dodge

B. W. Rude, Ernest Duncan, Tommie Johns, John Mathias and Everett "Pat" Patton, representatives of B. W. Rude Motor Co., local Dodge dealership, will attend a special preview showing of the 1958 line of Dodge passenger cars and trucks in Evansville, Ind., Tuesday.

Also attending the meeting, one of 17 similar showings across the country, will be officials of the Detroit auto firm, who will introduce the new models to local dealers and outline selling plans for the coming year. Public announcement of the 1958 Dodge is scheduled Nov. 6.

IN THE Service

Two soldiers from Harrisburg, Pvt. Donald E. Hull and Charles E. Arbie, recently were graduated from the nine-week equipment maintenance course at the Engineer school, Fort Belvoir, Va. Hull, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Iley P. Hull, RFD 1, entered the Army last April and was last stationed at Fort Carson, Colo. His wife, Nadine, lives in Alexandria, Va. Arbie, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arbie, 1306 South Granger, entered the Army last May and completed basic training at Fort Carson.

Pfc. John L. Owen Jr., whose parents live at 807 North Webster street, participated in recent organization day ceremonies of the 25th Infantry Division in Hawaii. The 25th, nicknamed the "Tropic Lightning" division, was organized in 1941. A demolition specialist in Company C of the division's 65th Engineer Battalion, Owen entered the Army in December 1955 and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He arrived in Hawaii in July 1956.

Arrests Fail to Halt Highway Fatalities In Southern Illinois

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — A record number of arrests by state police in southern Illinois during September failed to halt the climb of highway fatalities.

The police made 1,294 arrests in the 17 counties of Dist. 13. Ten persons were killed and 134 injured. Eight fatalities were reported in August. There were seven in September, 1956.

Eighty-one persons have died thus far this year on highways in the district. This total compares with an average of 76 for the same period during the last seven years. Johnson County topped the death list in September with four fatalities and Williamson County had two.

THE SUNDAY AUTO TOUR held Oct. 13 left Cobden and visited areas in Union county with 46 cars and an estimated 210 persons taking part. Spots visited included the top part of Draper's Bluff (top photo) which is east of Lick Creek in Union county. The bluff is said to be the shore of the Gulf of Mexico, middle photo shows Rock Channel northeast of Cobden which is en route to the two story shelter bluff shown below. The two story shelter bluff can be reached only on hands and knees and was a highlight of the tour. The above photos were made by John Foster, who will be co-leader of the tour to leave Harrisburg Sunday, Oct. 20, at 10 a. m.

The third Sunday Auto Autumn color tour along "The Skyline Drive" Trigg Memorial Ozark Trail will be Sunday, Oct. 20. It will start at the intersection of Routes 45 and 34, southeast edge of Harrisburg at 10 a. m.

Louis Aaron and John Foster will lead the outing and scenic points to be visited will include Bell Smith Springs Burden Falls, Stone Fort Bluff, Hayes Canyon, Lusk Creek Canyon and Williams Hill.

All interested persons are invited to join the tour and are urged to wear comfortable hiking clothing and walking shoes and to bring lunch and drink. Anyone wishing to join the tour late should meet the caravan one half mile north of Eddyville at Hayes Canyon. The caravan is scheduled to arrive there at 12:50 p. m.

Itinerary of the tour is as follows: Reach Burden Falls at 10:30 and leave there at 11:00 arrive at Bell Smith Springs 11:10 and tour members will carry their lunch down the steep and deposit on tables. Then they will visit Bay Creek, Spring, Devil's Backbone, Shelter Bluff on Hunting Branch, Bell Smith Spring old swimming hole and stairs. Lunch will be from 11:40 to 12:15.

After lunch visits will be made to Shipp's Prox rock and Natural Bridge then on to the steps and out.

The tour will arrive at Hayes Canyon at 12:30 and visit Barnard Hole for the rest of the day. It is a beautiful area with the best of everything. A picnic will be made to Double Bay role Terrace Garden, Twin Springs City of the Giants, Honeycomb Rock, Island Rock, Blind Lick, Rock Owls Cave, Shelter Bluff, Wild Geese, Bluff, Z. Canyon, Fat Ladies, Squeezing Rock, Rock, and on.

Rock then back to Terrace Garden and out to the cars. The group will drive over 12 miles of Trigg Memorial Ozark trail and will stop at Williams Hill Tower. It will then continue to Herod and return to Harrisburg on Rt. 34. Last Sunday 46 cars and an estimated 210 people took part in the tour which left Cobden and visited points in Union county area.

It's the BALANCE of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven. That's the story of Clabber Girl's balanced double action. Better Baking everytime!

Marlon Brando's Bride Assures She Is Indian

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Anna Kashfi, who married Marlon Brando last Friday in nearby Eagle Rock, assured the world today that, by golly, she was an Indian from Calcutta after all.

Her statement was designed to put an end to speculation that she was a Wales lass in disguise.

Shortly after announcement of the wedding Miss Kashfi's stepfather, William Patrick O'Callaghan, a factory worker in Cardiff, Wales, insisted that his daughter was "Joanna O'Callaghan," and did not "have a drop of Indian blood" in her veins.

Miss Kashfi and Brando returned from a four-day honeymoon Wednesday and issued the statement—one which the actress said would be her last attempt to clear up the much-discussed question of her parentage.

"I was born in Calcutta, India, to my Indian parents, Devi Kashfi, a civil engineer and architect, and Selma Ghose, on Sept. 30, 1934," she said in the statement.

"When I was 16 my mother remarried William Patrick O'Callaghan. I acquired their name and used it as my legal name on my first trip to England in 1952. I returned to India briefly thereafter and then went back to London. Two years ago I came to this country as a non-immigrant visitor on petition by Loew's Incorporated."

Only Six Negro Students Report at Little Rock High

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Only six of the nine Negroes who integrated Central High School Sept. 25 under the protection of paratroopers reported for classes today and their guard was further reduced.

Elizabeth Eckford, 14, was absent for the first time today. It was not determined immediately whether she has flu, like the other two absent Negro students.

The other two are Melba Pattillo, 15, who has not gone to school since last Thursday, and Terrance Roberts, 16, who has not been in school since last Friday.

Terrance has admitted that white students made him so miserable by throwing erasers and saying "things" that he thought about quitting last week. He said he has since changed his mind.

WSIL to Receive Citation Friday

A citation for public service is to be presented to station WSIL-TV, Harrisburg, Friday by five year old John Morris of McLeansboro, on the 5th anniversary of the inspirational TV series "This Is The Life." Only as old as the "world's most televised program," Master Morris will give station WSIL-TV a symbolic 5th birthday cake with a banner inscribed: "To WSIL-TV for Spiritual-Life Public Service on the 5th anniversary of 'This Is The Life.'"

Representing the religious series produced by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, Rev. B. C. Betow of the Trinity Lutheran church, McLeansboro, states that the award is made as the producers' way of observing the program's 5th anniversary on television.

Pastor Betow points out that the series is the "pioneer" in use of modern-day dramatic episodes to demonstrate, rather than preach, the values of the Christian message for happier, fuller living in today's world. Its 5-year history includes many national awards for excellence in the field of religious TV. It is seen over WSIL each Wednesday at 10:30 p. m.

Presenting the program's 5th birthday cake citation on the station's Studio Show at 5 p. m. Oct. 18 will be 5-year-old John Morris who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Morris of McLeansboro.

Arrested by FBI For Bank Robbery

CHICAGO — A former Chicago newspaperman was arrested by FBI agents and held for arraignment today on a charge of robbing a small bank of almost $7,000.

Christopher L. Magee, 40, was arrested Wednesday night shortly after he left a race track, where he told FBI agents he had "a good day."

Magee was charged with the robbery June 13, 1955, of the Cicero Savings and Loan Assn. in which he obtained $2,488, and for a $4,300 robbery of the same bank on Aug. 13, 1956.

FBI agent Richard Auerbach said the agency was on Magee's trail "for some time" before closing in on him Wednesday night as he was driving his car along Chicago's Lake Shore Drive.

Shoeless

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — After a truck explosion hurled flaming gasoline, police found 20 pairs of shoes left by fleeing pedestrians.

Wrong Number Causes Baby's Death

CHICAGO — A wrong number caused a baby's death.

Mrs. Judith Schlaeger was bathing her 2-month-old son in the kitchen sink when the telephone rang.

She put the baby on the sink drain board and went to answer the call. It was a wrong number.

She returned to find the baby's head and shoulders beneath the water.

Firemen were summoned and administered oxygen for 20 minutes, but the baby was dead.

The hysterical mother wept repeated two words, again and again:

"Wrong number . . . Wrong number."

Soviet Claims Missile Can Hit Target 'Exactly'

WASHINGTON — A Soviet Embassy official here claims that Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile is capable of hitting target "exactly."

Alexander T. Oustinov, First Secretary at the Embassy, also said the Russian space satellite is not sending coded messages as it circles the earth.

It was reported meanwhile that the Soviets probably will launch a second satellite within the next three weeks. It is expected to be even larger than the present 184-pound Sputnik, according to informed foreign diplomatic officials.

Oustinov cited Russia's satellite success as one of several examples of Soviet scientific advances at nearby College Park, Md.

He listed one of these as the Soviet ICBM which he said "has a very long range, exactly hitting on target."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said yesterday Russia has been working on ballistic missiles for some time and "probably have some advance over us" in that field of "potential" military activity.

The Soviet diplomat said the present Red moon is equipped with only two radio transmitters. He said Soviet scientists can gather information from the signals transmitted only by their character, such as the interval between signals and their strength.

less than crowds which have turned out for some presidential inaugurations.

There was a scattering of polite applause, but no sustained cheering from the crowd.

As the motorcade moved thru the city to the White House, the President pointed out the city's historic sights to the visitors. He gestured, for example to the Washington Monument, emblem of this nation's gratitude to the man who led the American Revolution against the Queen's forefather, King George III.

A vendor at 14th Street was doing a brisk business in sales of the Union Jack. His customers waved them as the Queen drove by.

Secret Service agents milled in the crowd.

They drove up to the north portico of the White House at 12:40 p. m.

Mrs. Eisenhower, wearing a green dress and black shoes, came forward and greeted her houseguests with handshakes.

"How do you do? Glad to see you, and glad to welcome you here," Mrs. Eisenhower said.

They posed for pictures, then entered the mansion.

Change Judge
For Murder Trial
Of Evansville Man

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Clifford Watson, 51, Evansville, who faces a murder trial in the shooting to death of his mother and dismemberment of her body, was granted a change of judge Wednesday.

Judge Ollie C. Reeves granted the change in Vanderburgh Circuit Court and appointed a panel of prospective judges.

Watson was arrested in Cincinnati several months ago, about two years after Mrs. Pearl Hartlage vanished mysteriously from her Evansville home.

Watson admitted, police said, killing Mrs. Hartlage during a violent argument, chopping up her body and eventually burying the parts beneath a farmhouse near Crawfordsville, Ind., where Watson's family moved temporarily from Evansville before going to Cincinnati.

Nickell Enters Hospital for Thorough Exam

SPRINGFIELD — Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent of public instruction, entered St. John's Hospital Wednesday for a thorough physical examination.

Earlier Nickell said the report on his medical checkup will be "the big determining factor" in whether he seeks a fifth term.

The Republican state official is now 66; he would be 67 when the April primary is held next spring. He is also recovering from a serious illness for which he was hospitalized several weeks earlier this year.

Nickell has been superintendent of public instruction since 1942.

Summon UN Group to Study Syria's Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — A meeting of the United Nations General Assembly Steering Committee was called for Friday morning to decide whether to list Syria's war charges against Turkey for full Assembly debate.

Sir Leslie Munroe of New Zealand, president of the Assembly and chairman of the committee, today summoned the 17-nation group to meet at 10 a. m. Friday for speedy action on the Syrian demand for a U. N. investigation of Turkish troop concentrations Syria charges threatens "imminent attack."

The United States, charged directly by Russia with "prodding" Turkey to attack Syria and touch off a new war, has expressed full support for such an investigation.

The United States, informed sources said, would like an investigation of troop build-ups in Syria and the Soviet Union, as well as the one requested by the Syrians in Turkey.

Western diplomats expressed concern that Russia might blunder into World War III by stepping up its propaganda blasts concerning the Syrian situation.

Marriage Ends For Faye Emerson

NEW YORK — Actress Faye Emerson and bandleader Skitch Henderson have written finis to their seven-year marriage.

A spokesman for the couple said they "reluctantly came to the conclusion to separate" yesterday after trying for a year to patch up their differences. He said they arrived at an amicable property settlement.

Miss Emerson and Henderson were married Dec. 12, 1950, in Cuernavaca, Mexico, where the actress received a divorce 11 months earlier from Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late president. Her first marriage, to William Crawford, a San Diego auto salesman, also ended in divorce.

Dr. Webb to Present Demonstration at Dental Meeting in Florida

Dr. L. I. Webb, of Harrisburg, will present a clinical demonstration on the scientific program at the 98th annual session of the American Dental Association to be held Nov. 4-7 in Miami and Miami Beach.

An attendance of 12,000 is expected at the four-day meeting. In addition to the clinical demonstrations, there will be an extensive program of scientific reports and scientific and technical exhibits on the newest developments in dentistry.

Missina Girl Returns Home

DES MOINES — A pretty 16-year-old girl who disappeared from an exclusive girls' school after a lovers spat returned home today and immediately embraced her boy friend.

Suzann Laing, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. M. Laing, arrived here with her parents from Kansas City and was met by her "No. 1 beau," Michael Cook, 17, and her older sister, Sheri, 22.

Authorities called off a three-state search for the girl Wednesday night when she was located at the home of a teen-aged girl in Kansas City. Suzann had been missing since Sunday when she walked off the campus of Brownell Hall, a girls' boarding school in Omaha.

Her mother confirmed that Suzann had run away "on impulse" after a quarrel with Cook. However, the quarrel was forgotten when Suzann saw her boy friend upon her arrival at the railroad station.

She rushed into his arms, and they stood in a lengthy embrace. Neither Suzann or her boy friend would talk about her disappearance.

Laing is a prominent dentist and the family is well known in equestrian circles in Iowa. Suzann has appeared in several horse shows.

French Author Wins Nobel Award

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — Existentialist French author Albert Camus was awarded the 1957 Nobel Prize for literature today.

He was the second youngest writer in history ever to win the high honor. Britain's Rudyard Kipling was the only one younger when he won it.

Camus was given this year's $40,000 prize for "his important literary production which, with clear-sighted earnestness, illuminates the problems of the human conscience in our time."

Camus has won worldwide fame for a number of novels and plays noted for their bitter outlook on life. His best-known novel, "The Plague," is typical of his work. It speaks for the disillusioned French generation which grew up just in time to face World War II.

Forest Service Completes Eddyville Wildlife Areas

According to District Ranger C. A. Gregory, sixteen game food patches and four ponds were recently completed by the Forest Service on the Vienna Ranger District of the Shawnee National Forest within a mile square area northwest of Eddyville.

Following specifications made by Bill Casey of the Conservation Department each food patch is about one acre in size and the ponds are one-tenth square. When the ponds fill and the game food seedlings develop, deer, quail, and other upland wildlife ought to find their range bigger and better than it was.

These developments mark the start of a broad program intended to make National Forest lands more useful and therefore more productive for all wildlife. Under an agreement between the Illinois Department of Conservation which furnishes the money and technical planning, while the Shawnee National Forest provides the land suitable in size and location, and work supervision, this cooperative effort hopes to develop a wildlife resource for greater economic and recreation benefits for Illinois.

SIU's Growth Is Described in Magazine

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois University's recent growth is described in detail in the October issue of Nation's Business. Southern is "one school which has already suffered the growing pains colleges generally will have in the next 10 to 20 years," the article states. Drastic changes such as have been made at SIU are in store for other colleges and universities across the country because the college age population is zooming, and demands for adult education and community services are increasing. Much of the heavy pressure on college facilities and faculty arises because of a changing public conception of what a college should do, according to the article by Ed Hasse of the SIU Information Services. Universities are being asked to take part in community and industrial development, provide consultant services for business, do research on a wide variety of subjects, and many other things not related to teaching. "All this adds up to positive prospects of a heavy financial burden," the article states. "Current thinking is that college and university operating funds will have to be raised from $3 billion a year to at least $5 billion a year and an extra $10 billion or more will be needed for building and improvements in another 10 years." "As one result of these pressing demands on the nation's institutions of higher learning, you can expect a significant increase in pressure for federal intervention," according to the article titled "Pressures Building for Aid to Colleges."

Rites for Negro Leader
LOUISE, Miss. (AP) — A Negro philanthropist, born 83 years ago in a sharecropper's cabin, will be buried today in an $11,000 funeral in this tiny delta cotton community. The body of Thomas Jefferson Huddleston, owner of a chain of funeral homes and one of the state's leading philanthropists, will be interred in an elaborate copper casket in a solid copper vault.

Rigney Signs New Two-Year Giants Contract, Hopes to Get in First Division

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—He may be whistling in the dark, but Bill Rigney, right on the heels of signing a new two-year contract as manager of the San Francisco Giants, said today that he hoped to get the club into the first division

Bull Dogs Play Strong Herrin Tigers Friday Night at Taylor Field

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs return to Taylor Field Friday night to meet the strong Herrin Tigers, tied with Centralia for tops in the South Seven conference football race.

And the locals, who fell 48-0 last week at Centralia, will be playing the first of three home games in a row. Next week it will be Carbondale in the Homecoming tilt, followed by West Frankfort the following Friday night.

Coach Lawrence Caluffetti kept his boys inside last night, devoting the practice time to a chalk talk by Caluffetti and several laps around the gym floor by the boys. Previously this week the Bull Dogs had undergone heavy workouts.

Caluffetti, who will have two backfield men out of action, was doing some shifting around this week. David Dalton, second string halfback who was out of action at Centralia because of a knee injury, still is unable to play. Also out of the Herrin game will be Ray Hassett, first string quarterback who suffered an injury to a knee early in the Centralia contest.

Gary Aldridge, first string guard, took over the quarterback chores when Hassett left the game and he'll be No. 1 quarterback Friday night. Mickey Stone, regular halfback, is learning the quarterback job so he can step in if Aldridge has to leave the game. To give the team another halfback, Carl Fleming, an end, is working at this post.

There'll be only one other South Seven conference game this weekend—Marion at Mt. Vernon. Other conference teams will play as follows: Benton will be host to Cairo, West Frankfort will entertain El-

Pacers to Take Spotlight at Cahokia Downs

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. — Pacers take the spotlight at Cahokia Downs tonight as the current meet moves into the fourth night of action. The fourth of the week's stakes features, for pacers, brought in another bumper entry of 21 sidewheelers which necessitated splitting the event into two divisions. Post time tonight is set for the usual 8:15.

To be contested as the seventh and eighth races on the card, the seventh will feature fillies and mares and, with the absence of anything that appears to be a pronounced favorite, the affair has all the earmarks of a wide open contest. Divisional battles will be over the one mile course.

If a pre-post betting choice could be installed it is quite likely to be the Herman Foist entry of Seattle Rose and Babs Lee which will carry the silks of the ace Bedford, Ky., driver. Strong contention is expected to come from Lily Scott, entered by Gib son White, son of the dean of all American harness horse drivers, Ben White of Lexington, Ky. Also expected to get her share of support will be Peggy Colby, the hard hitting 4-year old from the Bernard Ryan stable who dropped a photo decision on opening night after displaying terrific stamina in the closing strides of a six furlong dash.

Back for a second swing at Cahokia opposition will be Dusty Trask, the surprising dead-heat winner in the Inaugural Pace opening night who came into prominence by splitting the front end of the purse with highly favored Diana Abbe. A 30-1 longshot in the pre-race wagering prior to its smashing opening night performance, Dusty Trask should draw its share of support off that performance as it matches strides with such good ones as Mr. Pog el, Swing Shift Ned Rosecroft Boomtown, Gold Nuggett, Anthony's Dream, Jerry McCoy, Billy O'Henry, Blue Flash and Ozark Pride.

Greenberg, Fired as Indians' General Manager, to Help Board Select Successor

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A "keenly disappointed" Hank Greenberg volunteered today to serve as unofficial advisor to the Cleveland Indians in the selection of his own successor as general manager of the Tribe.

Board Chairman William R. Daley said Greenberg would advise the executive committee of the club's board of directors in finding a new general manager "as quickly as possible." The board voted Wednesday to "notify" Greenberg that his services no longer were required.

Daley had no sooner announced the decision that the deposed front-office boss volunteered to advise the committee selecting his replacement, and also denied rumors of a contemplated shift for the Cleveland franchise.

Greenberg, who held the position since 1950 and watched home gate receipts dwindle from 1,727,464 to

724,000 during his tenure, admitted he was "keenly disappointed."

"But I plan to keep my stock and remain interested in the team's welfare," Greenberg added.

Remains on Board

Greenberg, as second - largest shareholder with an estimated 15-20 per cent of stock, will stay on as one of the Tribe's 13 directors. His tenure as general manager ceases Jan. 1, though his salary, estimated at $60,000 a year, continues through the 1958 campaign.

Insiders were wondering who might succeed Greenberg. Daley himself said the board had "not to my knowledge" received any bids for the post.

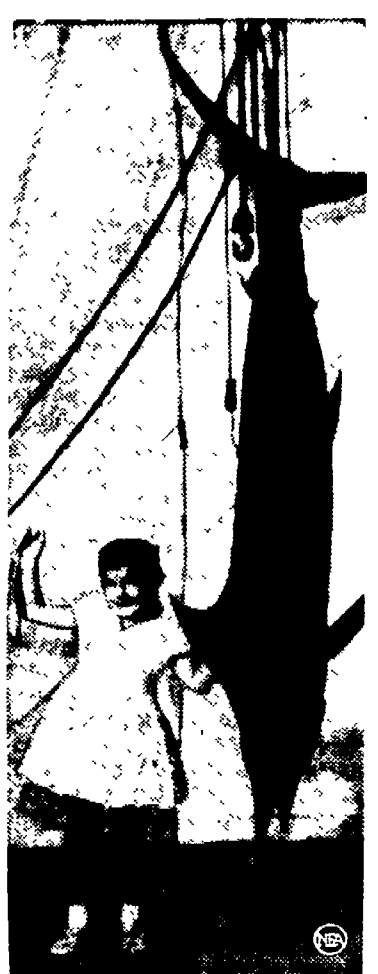

These names are mentioned most prominently: Bill Dewitt, Bill Veeck, Al Lopez, Paul Richards, and even Bob Feller, Bucky Harris, and Muddy Ruel.

Possibly the front-runner is Dewitt, who said he has not heard from the Indians, but that he would "be interested" if the job were offered.

Veeck, former general manager of the Tribe, isn't interested in working as a "hired hand," but prefers instead to purchase the club. It is not for sale.

The Department of Agriculture Engineering at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture plans to commemorate its 25th anniversary on Homecoming week end, October 18 and 19.

Pacific Coast To Discuss Future Plans

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast League board of directors will meet at the El Rancho motel in Sacramento on Nov. 1 to discuss plans for the future—if any.

President Leslie O'Connor said today the session would start at 10 a. m. and the main order of business would be to discuss the "notice of intentions" to draft the San Francisco and Los Angeles territories by the Giants and the Dodgers. These two clubs already have taken over the territories, with the Giants pushing out the Seals in San Francisco and the Dodgers the Angel and Hollywood Stars in Los Angeles. They also will vote on the sale of the Seals to the Giants, who gave cash and their Minneapolis franchise in the American Association to the Boston Red Sox for the local rights. The deal has to be approved by the PCL. The directors also probably will take into consideration the realignment of the league. Some are talking about adding Phoenix, Ariz., from the Arizona-Mexico league; Salt Lake City, Utah, from the Pioneer League; and Spokane, Wash., which is not in organized baseball right now.

SPRINGFIELD — Non-farm employment in Illinois reached 3,543,900 at mid-September, an increase of more than 29,000 from the previous month, Labor Director Roy F. Cummins reported today.

Cummins said the September figure was up 15,400 from employment levels a year earlier, and is the highest since December, 1956.

The labor director said increased government employment due to the opening of schools, plus seasonal upswings in manufacturing industries, accounted for much of the increase.

The net gain for the month in government employment was 16,600; and the number of persons employed in factories in the state moved up by 9,300. The total jobs in manufacturing industries, however, was 1,272,700, about 27,000 below this time last year.

Cummins said employment in durable goods industries and soft goods industries continued to climb. He said durable goods industries showed a net employment gain during the month of 7,100; non-durable or soft goods industries indicated a net employment gain of 2,200 employees.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Scherrer Get Free Vacation Trip to Hawaii

Mr and Mrs. George M. Scherrer of Shawneetown will leave Monday for a vacation trip to California and Hawaii. The specially prepared itinerary calls for four days in Los Angeles, and Hollywood, prior to a week in Hawaii.

The free vacation trip is the result of winning a sales contest sponsored by the International Harvester Company. The Scherrer Equipment Company, Eldorado, topped all dealers in the contest by selling 165.4 percent of the contest quota.

Qualifications for winning the "Let Yourself Go" trips were: sell the required number of tractors, combines and hay balers; hold a public field or commercial job demonstration by August 15, 1957; have an open house showing of new model tractors; make an average of three on-the-farm or on-the-job demonstrations for each tractor delivered between November 1, 1956, and September 21, 1957.

Three prizes were offered in the contest. They were, a fishing trip if you sold 100 percent of your 1957 retail quota; trip to Los Angeles, for selling 130 percent, and the vacation to Hawaii for selling 160 percent of the quota.

Also in connection with the trip to Los Angeles will be the 56th annual convention of the National Retail Farm Equipment Association. The Scherrers will leave the Evansville airport for their trip.

Among the places listed on the itinerary of the California trip are Disneyland, Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Hollywood motion picture and radio studios, Brentwood, the Riviera and its country clubs, the Pacific Ocean and millionaires' homes along the beach of Santa Monica from the Pallisades, and other interesting sites.

On Thursday, October 24, those winning the top award, and their wives, will leave Los Angeles for Honolulu.

The group will be taken on a drive up tropical Mount Tantalus, where they will view Honolulu, pass Punahou School and the University of Hawaii. Stops will be made at Punchbowl National Cemetery (the Arlington of the Pacific) and then will return through the beautiful residential district. Shopping tours will also be conducted as well as many other breathtaking events.

The vacationers will have Friday dinner served under the stars and the glorious moon of the Hawaiian Village, with the tempo of Hawaiian music for dancing.

On Saturday the noon luncheon will be at the Moando hotel under the famous Banyan Tree in Banyan Court where the broadcast of "Hawaii Calls" can be heard directly from the veranda.

Following a day of play on Sunday in the forever spring weather, three more days of sightseeing, including a visit to Pearl Harbor, will be on the agenda for the winners of the free vacation trip.

Eldorado High School Notes

HOMECOMING CELEBRATION NOV. 1-2

Homecoming at the Eldorado Township high school will be celebrated Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1 and 2.

The Senior class play and coronation of Homecoming Queen is listed for Friday. Saturday afternoon there will be the homecoming parade and Saturday night Benton will be the visiting team for the annual homecoming football game.

Five girls have been nominated for Homecoming Queen — Judy Bramlet, Myra Cox, Linda Flanagan, Susan Scribner and Janice Sutton. The Queen and members of the court will not be known until the time for the coronation following the Senior play.

Faculty directors for the coronation ceremony are Mrs. Celestine Wood, Mrs. Laura McDermott, Mrs. Mary O'Brien.

The title of the play is "Take Care of My Little Girl."

OLD GYMNASIUM IS REMODELED

One phase of the building and remodeling program at the ETHS has been completed.

The old gymnasium has been completely remodeled and redecorated for the girls' physical education program and has been occupied for a little more than a week.

The department consists of a shower room with green and white interior, a dressing room which is beige with gray tile and locker space for 356 girls.

In the dressing room are extra locker space and dressing room facilities.

A game room is provided for individual sports such as table tennis and shuffleboard.

The expanded girls' physical education program includes speedball, square dancing, tumbling, basketball, folk dancing, deck tennis, volleyball, softball, archery, badminton, relays, physical fitness exercises and leadership classes.

Work is being rushed to completion on the new building program, which includes a large gymnasium and additional classrooms for music, agricultural shop and industrial arts.

During the pigeon racing season 900,000 birds and their attendants are transported by British Rail ways to various points for release in the racing marathons.
